

BRENNAN 1928 WEATHER VANE FOR HIS PARTY

If He's Elected It Has a Wet Issue Plank.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., April 6.—[Special.]—With George E. Brennan, Democratic boss of Illinois, arriving in Washington at the head of the official Chicago delegation to testify at the senate prohibition hearing, interest was heightened in the moves being made by the faction of the Democratic party with which he is identified to capitalize the widespread reaction against Volsteadism.

The wet wing of the party, under the leadership of such men as Gov. Al Smith of New York, Gov. Ritchie of Maryland, and Mr. Brennan, is now riding the crest of the wave of public sentiment favoring modification to permit the individual states to determine whether to remain bone dry or to permit light wines and beer.

Dry Wing Is Wavering.
The dry wing, which still looks to William G. McAdoo for leadership, is distinctly on the defensive and perceptibly wavering, if one may judge from the attitude of numerous Democratic spokesmen from dry constituencies who now sense an unmistakable sentiment in favor of modifying the extreme rigors of prohibition.

So far the dry Democrats have been able to keep the prohibition issue out of national elections and to prevent the incorporation of any wet or moist plank in the party platform. But the popular reaction against Volsteadism has reached a point that raises a doubt of the ability of the drys to hold their ground in the next Democratic national convention. The trend is all in the direction of a platform declaration for modification of the Volstead act on the state rights principle, if not the nomination of an outstanding wet candidate for President.

How Wet Leaders Figure It.
The leaders of the wet faction are convinced that, with prohibition the issue, the Democrats, frankly espousing a modification program, would be able to sweep the east and the major portion of the middle west and still hold the dry solid south in line—all of which they think would assure election of a Democratic President. This reasoning is based on the assumption that the Republican party will remain the sheet anchor of the drys. With that situation the wet Jeffersonians believe they could split the Republican party east of the Mississippi.

Brennan Sticks to Illinois Battle.
Mr. Brennan declined to discuss the national political aspects of the movement and denied that his candidacy for United States senator is intended merely to promote the candidacy of Al Smith for the Democratic nomination for President. The Illinois boss does not conceal his admiration for Smith, whom he did his utmost to dominate.

In 1924, and does not deny that if he should be elected to the senate next November the wet cause would gain immensely in prestige. Mr. Brennan, however, made it clear that he is not looking beyond Illinois at present.

So many Republicans favoring modification of the Volstead act have written and telephoned to Mr. Brennan their intention to support him for senator that he is now confident he will be elected even in a state so overwhelmingly Republican as Illinois. Both Senator McKinley and Col. Smith, the Republican candidates for the nomination, are dry.

Wooling G. O. P. Support.

On other issues Mr. Brennan appears to have met the Republicans half way, assuring them that he foresees no issue on which he cannot support President Coolidge to the satisfaction of the most capacious communitarian of the G. O. P.

Mr. Brennan believes that prohibition is bound to be the paramount issue next November elections and offers himself to the Illinois electorate as a means of adding one more vote in the senate for modification of the Volstead act. He is opposed to the restoration of the saloon but favors non-intoxicating wines and beer.

The Illinois election will furnish a test. If Mr. Brennan wins, the wet Democrats will be sure they have found the correct prescription for success in 1928.

AD MEN AND WOMEN PLAN FRIDAY DANCE

Advertising men and women of Chicago are planning for their annual spring frolic Friday night, April 9, in the grand ballroom of the New Palmer House. Those cooperating are the Advertising Council, the Women's Advertising Club of Chicago, the Advertising Men's post of the American Legion, the Western Council of the American Association of Advertising Agencies, the Aerie club, the Atlas club, Newspaper Representatives' association, and the Engineering Advertisers' association.

BILLY WATSON'S WIFE AND HER PARTNER SLAIN

New York, April 6.—[Special.]—Mrs. Nellie T. Watson, wife of "Sliding Billy" Watson, the burlesque comedian, and Henry Kothe, her partner in the Three Hundred club at Froedport, L. I., were slain in the roadhouse today by Karl Kieferle, a discharged waiter.

Kieferle shot them down as they sat at breakfast in the roadhouse. Then he helped himself to a drink of raw whisky, walked out of the house, hailed a passing automobile, and went to police headquarters, where he surrendered.

"Kothe fired me yesterday when I wouldn't clean up the floor like Mrs. Watson told me to," he said. "So I got mad and killed them."

"Sliding Billy" Watson is one of the leading comedians of the burlesque circuit, being head of his own company.

Watson and his wife have been separated for three years, but for twelve years before that they played together on the "burlesque wheel."

STREET CENTERS TO BE DEPRESSED BY "NEW" ORDER

Streets depressed in the center instead of at the curb is to be the method of the future in Chicago under an order approved yesterday by the board of local improvements upon recommendation of John J. Sloan, president.

Mr. Sloan cited the condition of thoroughfares as the result of the recent heavy snowfalls as an argument in favor of the change. The drainage lines in the center of the streets direct to the sewers will permit the water to drain off more quickly, he said.

"It will be more sanitary in all conditions of weather, safer from a traffic standpoint, and ten to fifteen per cent cheaper," he said. "It will insure a durable pavement with walks level with the streets at intersections."

MADDEN TO VOTE, BUT SECRETARY FAILS TO QUALIFY

Election Board Finds Deneen Workers Mistaken.

Congressman Martin B. Madden will be permitted to vote in the Illinois Republican primary next Tuesday, but his secretary, John G. Middleton, won't.

Their cases were similar. Both are registered at 3829 Michigan avenue, the congressman's former home. Both were challenged by affidavits signed by a Negro precinct worker who called at that number and, according to his testimony, found neither lived there.

Rushed to Madden's Rescue.
But the handling of the two cases differed materially. Everybody rushed to Mr. Madden's rescue. Telegraph and telephone wires hummed. Investigators were sent out. Witnesses were summoned. The testimony taken before the election board last night went to show that Congressman Madden was entitled to vote. Then it was discovered that the evidence produced for that purpose was itself wiped.

Secretary Middleton's name off the poll list.

The case against Mr. Madden was presented by A. L. Williams, Foxen ward leader, aided by Precinct Captain Paul Parkes and Assistant Precinct Captain Earl Penn, all colored.

The testimony of the latter two was that they had called at 3829 Michigan avenue and were told by Mrs. Anna Reinert, now living there, that eleven persons formerly registered from that address do not live there now. The list included the names of Madden and Middleton.

Then appeared Mrs. Reinert who unhesitatingly said Congressman Madden owns the property, that his furniture is in the house, that he retains two rooms there for his own use and that he has a key to the front door so that he may come and go as he pleases.

Denies Saying He Wasn't Resident.
Then Ward Leader Williams asked her if it was not true that his two precinct aides had called on her and had been told that none of the eleven persons whose names they read lived there. Not satisfied with her answer, he began reading off the list.

After each of the other names was read to her she affirmed the testimony of the precinct workers. And that list contained Secretary Middleton's name. Those looking out for Congressman Madden's interests had overlooked that fact.

Commissioner Czarniecki announced that he had sworn in Congressman Madden over the long distance telephone and that a lot of other formalities had been gone through, but upon his suggestion, Attorney Williams consented to withdraw the challenge against the congressman.

The board heard suspect cases all day and will finish this task tonight, when probably 15,000 names will be erased from the registers.

FARMS LOSE 479,000 TO CITIES IN YEAR; NOW 30,655,000 TILLERS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., April 6.—[Special.]—There were 479,000 fewer people on farms Jan. 1, this year, than a year ago according to the department of agriculture. Estimates announced today place the farm population at 30,655,000, compared with 31,134,000 on Jan. 1, 1925, a decrease of 1.5 per cent.

The movement from farms to cities, towns and villages in 1925 is estimated at 2,335,000, and the movement to farms at 1,135,000, a net movement away from farms of 901,000.

The figures for 1924 showed a net loss in farm population of 152,000 persons. The gross movement from farms was 1,396,000, a net movement, not counting births and deaths, of 679,000 persons.

All geographic divisions of the country showed net decreases in farm population during the last year.

CHILDREN GET MILLION ESTATE OF DR. G. S. ISHAM

The $1,000,000 estate of the late Dr. George Snow Isham, for more than forty years a Chicagoan, will be divided among his two sons and daughter, according to the will filed yesterday before Assistant Probate Judge Frederick W. Elliott.

The heirs are Henry Porter Isham of Lake Forest, Ralph Nelson Isham, and Helen Isham, 1340 North State parkway. The estate is left to them in trust, Henry H. Porter, 1550 North State parkway, the physician's brother-in-law, acting with the two sons as executors.

SALESMEN

A Very Exceptional Opportunity

I have just been commissioned by one of Chicago's largest Wholesale Distributors to engage five high grade salesmen who are capable of earning from $4000 to $6000 per year.

The men selected will receive SALARY and commission while learning the business, and will be given an opportunity to start work at once right here in Chicago.

I regard this as an exceptional opportunity to sell a nationally advertised product of established merit.

The books of this corporation show that their average salesmen are actually earning the amounts indicated above.

AGED WOMAN'S BODY FOUND; HAD BEEN STRANGLED

Los Angeles, Cal., April 6.—[AP.]—The body of Mrs. Luella Phinney, 83, was found today beneath a box couch in her home here. The aged woman had been strangled to death.

Mrs. Phinney's body was found by her niece, Mrs. A. C. MacArthur of Los Angeles, near here, who told officers she had been staying at the house since Sunday and had slept on the couch under which the body was found for two nights before she discovered it.

the nomination of a friend as state treasurer.

"A legislature friendly to the governor does not mean protection for him against impeachment, but it means the passage of laws of a character I have indicated."

"Because I know the dangers I am acting with Crowe, Barrett, Thompson and every political element opposing Small. They have designated their ticket the home rule ticket, meaning they are for Cook county and against the transferring of local government to Springfield. Every one who is against Small can unite in this understanding to break his political grasp on Illinois."

Charged Canal Board Waste.
Roy O. West, for the Democrats, ripped into the sanitary district. He charged that extravagant government is now reflected in bigger tax bills now being received by taxpayers.

"In December, 1922," he said, "when the present Crowe-Brennan combination of four Republicans and three Democrats assumed control, the annual budget of the sanitary district for the current year was $19,000,000. The 1926 budget totals $42,000,000 plus."

"They have lifted the total bonded indebtedness in two years from $33,000,000 to $61,000,000, and have contracted liabilities further increasing the grand total to $71,000,000 plus. Moreover, a tentative program of sewage treatment plant construction for the next five years totals $49,000,000."

"During the ten year period ending in 1925, this combination proposes to spend nearly $100,000,000 for the same purposes."

Tells of Many Changes.
"When Charles E. Deneen first became governor of Illinois the expenditures for the entire state government were only $13,000,000 per year. Compare this with the sanitary district budgets of $42,000,000 per annum for current expenses."

"In the last six years the pay roll of the sanitary district has more than doubled. There were 1,500 employees in 1919, as against an approximate 3,200 at the present time."

"The maintenance pay roll of the sanitary district (unpublished) for the month of February, 1926, indicates an increase of $56,669.38 over the second half of January."

"The combined monthly pay roll of the sanitary district as of March 1 may be estimated at $91,261.88, which would indicate an annual expenditure for pay roll purposes alone of $7,096,166.88. This, however, does not include sums paid out to numerous political favorites for lake level litigation, inspection, etc. Sanitary district expenditures for coal during 1925 totaled $214,000, as against $136,000 in 1924, and only $86,000 in the year previous."

POLITICAL NOTES

County Reviewer Charles V. Barrett has been endorsed by the North of Oak Park Improvement association, numbering 3,000 property owners.

In endorsing H. C. W. Laubheimer, Deneen candidate for Probate court clerk, Justus F. Chancellor, president of the Lawyers' association of Illinois, said yesterday that lawyers participating in bar association polls should also pass on the qualifications of candidates for clerks of the various courts.

A committee of physicians, dentists, and druggists, headed by Drs. W. A. Newman, Portland, M. D., E. Byron Kelly, D. D. S., Otto T. Freer, M. D., and Andrew Scherer, R. P. H., has been organized in the 9th congressional district to aid Dr. Patrick J. H. Farrell's candidacy for congress.

Dunne-Harrison-O'Connell Democrats begin loop meetings today. Former Gov. Edward F. Dunne will speak at the Olympic theater this noon along with candidates on the ticket. He will be the headline also at the Garrick theater tomorrow noon.

Senator Deneen is expected back in Chicago today to take charge of the final drive for his county ticket. In an appeal to voters to support the bond issue proposals for street improvements in the April 12 primaries, Charles H. Wacker, chairman of the Chicago plan commission, yesterday characterized them as among the most important matters to be decided in the primary.

"When they were candidates our organization sent the delegates from Cook county to the national convention to vote for Coolidge and Dawes, the Small-Deneen-Lundin organization having no delegates from Cook county."

"A query that suggests itself to the average person is why they do not put the names of Fred Lundin and Len Small at the head of their sample ballot. Is Deneen ashamed of his partnership with them or is he attempting to fool the people?"

SMITH CAMPAIGN BUILT ON BUNK, MCKINLEY SAYS

While Senator's Record Is Assailed by Rival.

Speaking at Joliet last night, United States Senator William B. McKinley declared that his opponent for the Republican senatorial nomination, Frank L. Smith, is running rampant with bunk issues in the campaign that now has less than one week to go.

Meantime, at the Princess theater in Chicago yesterday noon and in five meetings on the south and west sides last night, Smith assailed McKinley's record in the senate during the last five years.

President Coolidge, Senator McKinley said, refuted Smith's claims that the world court is a league of nations court when the President refused a few days ago to send delegates to Geneva to explain the American reservations to the league.

Says Smith Changed Sides.
"Bunk issues are expected in any campaign," Senator McKinley said, "but they have run rampant in this one."

"My opponent declared for the world court in his platform when he started to run. He learned that he could get certain support by repudiating his platform and he promptly repudiated it. To citizens who know those facts any declaration he might make on the world court would be without merit and without effect."

"My opponent has tried to make the people believe that the Republican party, President Coolidge, and those Republican members of congress, including myself, who have stood by the President, are trying to drag the United States into the league of nations. He knows that this is false and it will never be heard of thirty days after the election. He knows that I am against the league of nations and always have been."

Senator McKinley quoted the President's declaration of a few days ago in which he said, "We are not dealing with the league of nations, and the court has nothing to do with the league of nations."

Senator McKinley also rebuked Smith and his manager, Allen F. Moore, both wealthy men, for attempting to make a "rich man" issue against McKinley.

Charles Pies, president of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, yesterday joined with others who have endorsed McKinley, including Harry A. Wheeler, president of the Union Trust company, Leasing Rosenthal, Victor Elting, and Henry P. Chandler, head of the committee of 200.

Smith Slaps McKinley Record.
Smith meantime discussed McKinley's record, declaring that in five years in the senate he has introduced only 24 bills of general importance and that after 23 of them were written the fatal words: "No action taken." The only McKinley bill of importance that passed was the measure authorizing the President to invite the interparliamentary union to Washington for its 1925 session, Smith said.

Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom arrived in town yesterday, announcing that he would be on the stump for Smith daily during the balance of the campaign. Brig. Gen. Henry J. Reilly, commander of the 149th field artillery of the Rainbow division during the world war, and Harold L. Ickes, former Roosevelt leader, will take the stump for Smith because of his anti-world court stand, Smith headquarters announced.

Chicago's 20,000 street car men came out with a reputation of Smith as a friend of labor.

"FIRED" JANITOR HOLDS FORT AS JUDGE PONDERS

Fred Hartman, discharged janitor, who refuses to vacate his quarters in a cooperative apartment building at 145-406 Michigan avenue, Evanston, still held his strategic position last night.

After a long hearing on a petition for a writ to forcibly eject Hartman, Magistrate Charles G. Franklin took the matter under advisement until tomorrow.

According to members of the corporation operating the building, Hartman was discharged for inefficiency and given thirty days' notice, as required by his union. At the expiration of his time, however, he declined to move from his quarters.

BIG BILL SETS HIS BIG RATS ON HIS OLD PALS

Assails Lundin and Robertson in Loop Talk.

The Bill Thompson put on his rat show yesterday at the Cort theater. With two big rats from the stock market, one named Fred after Fred Lundin and the other Doc after Dr. John Dill Robertson, the former mayor kept his audience interested as he addressed his remarks to the two rodents. The former mayor put on his show after candidates on the Crow-Barrett ticket had spoken. None was able to outdo him from making the performance. When the candidates were through with the theater, Big Bill came on the stage with his rats and the show was on.

"Some of my friends have advised me against doing this," he said. "They tell me it is a political blunder, but I don't think so." It is unnecessary to remind Chicagoans that Lundin and Robertson were Thompson's closest allies in days of yore.

Attacks House Bill's Wrath.
Big Bill was all warmed up over attacks made on him in the Illinois Republican Bulletin, campaign organ of the Lundin-Small machine, which assailed him for making up with some of his erstwhile political enemies. "This one," he said, indicating the rat named after Dr. Robertson, president of the west park board and former health commissioner during the Lundin-Thompson days in the city, "this one is Doc. I can tell him because he hadn't had a bath in twenty years until we washed him yesterday. But we did wash him and he doesn't smell like a Billy goat any longer."

"Don't hang your head now, Fred," he said, addressing the other rat. "Fred, let me ask you something, wasn't I the best friend you ever had? Isn't it true that I came home from Honolulu to save you from the penitentiary?"

Lived Up to Cowboy Code.
Big Bill then related how he lived up to his cowboy code of standing by his friends and came home to be a character witness for Lundin in the school board graft trial. He said he had Lundin going to double cross him.

Then turning to the rat called Doc, he asked why "you went around telling people I had a bad heart and would die."

"In hopes, are you, that I may be out of the way when you want to run for mayor? No, Bill Thompson is too tough and just mean enough to keep you out of the running."

"Do you remember, Doc, how many people came to me to protest against my appointment of you as health commissioner? Do you remember how I stood up against them and honored you with that great office? If you do remember, you know why I am calling you a rat for turning against me with Lundin."

you a rat for turning against me with Lundin."

Lundin a "Jekyll-Hyde."
Thompson called Lundin a Jekyll-Hyde personality.

"I think when he was associated with me the best in him came to the surface," he said. "Since then it has been only the evil."

Thompson said he had six rats to start with, but that Fred and Doc ate up the other four, which were smaller.

Before putting on his menagerie the former mayor lambasted the world court and the king of England.

Candidates on the Deneen-Lundin county ticket provided a rival loop attraction with a meeting at the Olympia theater.

Sheridan Trust President

Edwin L. Read, oldest active officer of the Sheridan Trust and Savings bank in point of service, was elected president of the bank yesterday to succeed W. J. Klingenberg. President Read's twenty-two years of banking experience began in the Central Trust company in 1904. He has been with the Sheridan Trust since 1912, first as cashier and later as a vice president.

DECIDEDLY UNPALATABLE, AND NO KICK TO IT

WARR DEFENDS LEITER'S WISDOM ABOUT ZEIGLER

Memory Lapses Guard
Joe from Any Blame.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK

Lady Marguerite Hyde, countess of Suffolk and Berke, took ammunition from the enemy in Judge Denis E. Sullivan's court yesterday. This happened when former Judge George A. Cooke, counsel for the heirs of the late Mary Leiter Curzon, in the countess' suit charging Joseph Leiter with mismanagement of the estate of their father, Levi Z. Leiter, put upon the stand William J. Warr, called by some Joe's "rubber stamp" trustee.

But the ammunition was all wet. Instead of being made to fire a broadside against the defense side of the table it spluttered testily at the attorneys who touched it off. Or it died down to inarticulate moments of indecision and refused to do anything.

Warr's Memory None Too Good.
That is, William J. Warr, since 1897 an employee of Joseph Leiter, refused to remember, or he forgot the details of any transaction through the years which might possibly have reflected on his employer's business acumen in the administration of the Zeigler coal mining properties.

This blanket reticence irked Judge Cooke and he characterized Mr. Warr as a hostile witness.

Attorney Colin C. H. Pyffe, counsel for Warr, bookkeeper-trustee, maintained that to forget is only human, and to cease to recollect is entirely legal.

What Mr. Cook Sought.
The three major points which Mr. Cooke, over the objections of his borrowed witness, sought to establish in connection with the Zeigler ill. part of the evidence are these:

1. Joe Leiter purchased for himself the Chicago, Zeigler and Gulf railroad, built by his father, for something like $30,000; kept it until an interstate commerce ruling cut its profits down to a loss of something like $37,000; added the purchase price and the debts together, and sold the railroad back to the Leiter estate for $51,144.

2. In spite of the fact that Mr. Warr, secretary of the Zeigler Coal company, kept careful minutes of directors' meetings, recording only that "no quorum was present."

SPURNED IN LOVE, BARRED AT HOME, GIRL TAKES LIFE

Deserted by her common law husband, scorned by her mother, alone and penniless, Lucille Sutter, a 19 year old waitress, yesterday was found dead from gas fumes in her apartment at 1871 Maud avenue.

"You and my mother will be sorry for this," ran a note which the girl tossed through an open window into the bedroom of her alleged affiant, Charles Nabor, 23 years old, of 1672 Bissell street, a short time before turning on the gas.

Capt. Thomas Condon of the Hudson avenue police was summoned by a frantic telephone call from Nabor. The youth, awaking early, found the note and had hurried to the flat where he says he and Miss Sutter lived for ten months.

"I lost my job and couldn't go on with Lucille," young Nabor said.

"Last night I took her to her mother's home, but Mrs. Sutter slammed the door in her face."

Nabor said he left the girl in the street and went to his home.

"An hour later I heard a tapping at my window, but thought nothing of it. This morning there lay the note," he said.

Painfully scrawled on two blotters lying upon the kitchen table in the flat was a farewell note from the girl to Nabor. The youth was held in custody for an inquest today.

Mercolized Wax Keeps Face Young

"Brings Out the Hidden Beauty"

If every woman knew of the wonderful rejuvenating and beautifying qualities of Mercolized Wax, druggists could not begin to supply the demand for this remarkable product. Just think! You apply the wax to an aged, faded, withered skin, and that skin goes away to one of youthful loveliness, clear, soft, delicately tinted. How is this accomplished? By actually peeling off the defective outer skin which covers up the true skin underneath. This is a painless process, for the thin veil of outer skin has no nerves. Nature renews complexion in exactly the same way, constantly shedding tiny particles of the surface covering, or scurf skin. But in time this process slows up. Then Mercolized Wax comes to the rescue and hastens the skin shedding. This is the secret of its marvelous success. So if your skin is old-looking, sallow, over-rid, blotchy, parched, rough, oily—the stubborn scurf skin—just peel it off! Get rid of it! Have your pimples, freckles, moth patches, liver spots? Peel them off!

he had no record of the meetings at which 1,500 acres of mine No. 1, and 1,400 acres of mine No. 2 were leased to the Bell & Zoller company.

3. The notation of some $100,000 worth of coal company bonds issued to Mr. Leiter, in addition to $111,000 definitely accounted for, seem to have come "out of the everywhere into the here."

Main Cause of Dispute.

This first point, the item of $67,144.32, which oscillated between the Joseph Leiter's account and the coal company's account, was the main object of contention.

At another point Mr. Warr took any blame there might be off Mr. Leiter's shoulders and placed it on his own, when he said:

"Yes, I know minutes should have been taken of those meetings. But I assume full responsibility for the omission."

As to the issuance of the additional $100,000 bonds to Mr. Leiter, he said: "I don't know."

Judge Sullivan laughingly told the fourteen attorneys present:

"It took the Supreme court to teach me that when a witness says 'I think' he is telling what he knows."

BROOKHART MAY RETAIN SEAT AS IOWA SENATOR

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., April 6.—[Special.]—As debate on the Brookhart election contest continued today in the senate evidences multiplied that Senator Brookhart (Rep., Iowa) will retain his seat.

Republican leaders admitted that notwithstanding the almost unanimous report from the committee on privileges and elections, recommending the seating of Daniel F. Steck, Democrat, the trend of sentiment is the other way.

Senator Stephens (Dem., Miss.), who filed the only dissenting report from the elections committee, championed the Brookhart cause in the senate today.

Speeches on the Steck side were made by Senator Ernst (Rep., Ky.), chairman of the elections committee, and by Senator Caraway (Dem., Ark.), who presented the majority report from the committee.

CANDIDATES FOR SANITARY BOARD VIEWED BRIEFLY

Twelve in Running for Primary Nominations.

Continuing the series of short biographies of candidates for office in the primaries on April 13, there is presented today information concerning candidates for sanitary trustees, as follows:

Lawrence F. King.
Mr. King is 52 years old and lives at 3636 South Hamilton avenue. He is the ward committeeman for his organization from the 12th. He was elected trustee in 1923 and served as chairman of the engineering and finance committees before he was made president. It is said that he has never missed a committee or regular meeting. His previous political service was as minute clerk of the Circuit court, clerk of the sanitary district, and superintendent of compensation for the city.

Morris Eller.
Morris Eller has been the Republican boss of the Twentieth ward for a decade. He now lives in the 36th, but retains his committee position. That his organization is functioning in full force was shown by the recent banquet of the Halsted-Roosevelt Business Men's association, attended by more than 2,000. Mr. Eller was born in Russia and came to Chicago when 17 years old. He first made a mark as real estate dealer and held various appointive offices in the city hall. His larger reward for delivering his ward with great regularity came in 1915, when he was made city sealor by William Hale Thompson. He was elected to the sanitary board in 1920, and has served there as chairman of the finance committee. He is a member of many organizations, has seven children and twelve grandchildren, and lives at 5553 West Congress street.

Charles E. Graydon.
Mr. Graydon is president of the West Side and Eagle ice companies, lives at 2100 Walnut street, and is a member of the Masonic Union Park lodge, Consistory and Medinah Temple.

Frank P. Danisch.
Frank P. Danisch, former alderman of the old Eleventh ward; Harold P. O'Connell, former assistant state's attorney; and Fred Burkhard, former member of the board of local improvements, are the Dunne-O'Connell candidates.

Mr. Danisch served in the council in 1910. As a member of the public buildings committee he recalls how he found sawdust being put into some of the pillars of the city hall, built during his term, and how he stopped that. He was elected clerk of the Municipal court on the Democratic ticket in 1912, since leaving that office he has been practicing law. He lives at 3712 North Kedvale avenue.

Harold P. O'Connell.
Mr. O'Connell was an assistant state's attorney from 1919 to 1923. He is a graduate of De Paul university law school and is now in practice with Pedan, Kahn & Murphy. He served with the Naval Reserve during 1918. He lives at 4735 South Halsted street.

Fred Burkhard.
Mr. Burkhard was born in Germany. He has been here since 1889 and is in the undertaking business. He was on the police force for six years. He was treasurer of the old 26th ward Democratic organization for five years and was four years on the board of local improvements under Carter H. Harrison.

Guy Guernsey.
Ald. Guy Guernsey of the Sixth ward, Ald. Arthur F. Albert of the Forty-third, and Alexander N. Todd, Republican committeeman from the Fourteenth ward and now a member of the sanitary board, are the Dunne candidates.

Ald. Guernsey is one of the outstanding members of the city council, where he has served since 1919. He is chairman of the committee on harbors, wharves and bridges. He has served one term in the legislature and was clerk of the Probate court from 1905 to 1910. He is a lawyer, coming to Chicago from Grinnell college, Iowa, and graduating in 1904 from the Chicago Kent College of Law. He was president of the Hamilton club in 1913-14 and is now president of the Collegiate club. He is active in Y. M. C. A. and Boy Scout work.

Arthur F. Albert.
Ald. Albert has attained some reputation as a terror of the city council. It was in the course of one of his quick fire speeches in the council recently that he attacked the present board of sanitary trustees and said they should be cleaned out. As a result of this speech he was picked up by the Deen group and made one of their candidates. Albert was elected to the council in 1921 at the age of 22. He is now serving his third term. He is a lawyer. In the council he forced the investigation which resulted in reorganization of the fire department and started the investigation into the pension fund of policemen's widows and orphans.

Alexander N. Todd.
Mr. Todd has been affiliated in politics with Fred Lundin for many years. He has been committeeman for his ward for eleven years and was elected to the sanitary district in 1920. He is president of the Commonwealth Improvement company. He is a member of Medinah Temple.

John J. Touhy.
Ald. John J. Touhy of the 27th ward,

George Hull Porter, an executive of the Western Electric company, and Frank F. Roeder, former alderman of the 45th ward, are the regular Democratic organization candidates.

Ald. Touhy has served five years in the council. He won his political prestige by defeating Barney Grogan in the old 18th ward. His record in the council has been commended by the Municipal Voters' league. He is organization committeeman from his ward. He is in the real estate business.

George Hull Porter.
Capt. Porter joined the Brennan organization four years ago and has given a good deal of time and thought to politics since. He was manager of the P. J. Carr campaign for city treasurer. He has been with the Western Electric company for many years and is now general manager. He lives at 546 Surf street.

Frank F. Roeder.
Mr. Roeder is organization committeeman from his ward and is now the city purchasing agent.

DEVINE OPENS
COUNTER ATTACK
UPON B. W. SNOW

Probate Clerk Explains
Deal on Interest.

John F. Devine, Probate court clerk and Deneen candidate for county treasurer, last night declared that the counter attack on interest on probate funds twice asked by Bernard W. Snow, municipal court bailiff, as manager of George F. Harding, the Crowe-Barrett entry for treasurer, are based on "inferential falsehood."

For extra measure, Mr. Devine asked for an explanation from Mr. Snow of commissions said to be paid to some employees in the bailiff's office by warehouses in which goods awaiting sale are stored.

"I have originals of two checks from the manager of the Union warehouse, indorsed by John C. McGinnis, employed in the bailiff's office," Mr. Devine said. "They are drawn to the order of cash, and they total $268. Let Mr. Snow explain this."

"The facts in reference to interest on public money in Mr. Devine's possession are as follows," the Devine statement said. "Once each month Mr. Devine turns over to the county treasurer all the receipts of his office. These average $20,000 a month, so the month starts with nothing and ends with $20,000, or what would amount to an average balance of $10,000."

"In all banks on checking accounts 2 per cent interest is credited on accounts in excess of $1,000. The total amount of interest that could be earned therefore by Mr. Devine would be $180 a year or $15 a month."

"In lieu of that, Devine said, the banks pay the cost of various surety bonds involved in the handling of the money."

FIVE RING CIRCUS IS HERE FOR ITS OPENING APRIL 10

American slang is due for a little re-vamping when the Sells-Floto circus opens its 1926 season at the Coliseum on Saturday. No longer will the comparison "As funny as a three ring circus" be as descriptive as in former years. Because the three ring circus is passé. It's a five ring circus now.

And to fit into those five rings, the circus unloaded yesterday at 18th and Clark street, rain and slush notwithstanding, five herds of elephants, five tons of Liberty horses, five sets of acrobatic dogs, and complete and numerous teams of all the animals usually found performing in a circus ring, all in sets of five.

The animals were shipped to Chicago from Peru, Ind., winter quarters, and were unloaded and installed in the exact and the basement of the Coliseum without a single mishap.

PILL-SLAVE FREED FROM CONSTIPATION

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN
brought natural relief
in a few weeks.

A remarkable, convincing tribute is paid Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in this letter from Mr. F. C. Aminson of Seattle:

"I suffered with chronic constipation for many years and was compelled to use pills every night, but since I got your Kellogg's ALL-BRAN it works fine. I would not be without it. I was so deathly sick of taking pills every night. Now it is so different. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN works so naturally and is pleasant to take."

F. C. AMINSON
Kennyhole, Seattle, Washington.

You can get permanent relief from constipation with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN if eaten regularly. Two tablespoonsful daily—or in chronic cases, with every meal. Doctors recommend it because it is ALL-BRAN. It does a job only ALL-BRAN can do. Part-bran product may not do any good at all.

Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with milk or cream. Use it in cooking. Try the recipes given on the package. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Michigan. Served by the leading hotels and restaurants. Sold by grocers.

HOLDING A BEAR BY THE TAIL.

President Coolidge's decision to send a commission of investigation into the Philippines may result in the formation of some definite policy concerning the relation between the United States and these troublesome island possessions. It is, therefore, an executive enterprise which promises to be extremely worth while. The President's proposal is due full commendation and support because of its pledge that some action will be taken toward settlement of a situation which many Americans ignore, but which is one of the most irritating with which the government is confronted.

The United States took over the Philippines with the altruistic feeling that here was a made to order opportunity of proving the beneficence of the American form of government. In the little brown brother was excellent material for an experiment in training an alien race, containing a generous percentage of uncivilized individuals, in the ways of responsible citizenship and a republican democracy.

Certain American soldiers who had chased the little brown brother through the Mindanao jungles, who had been shot at by the little brown brothers' muskets, and had spanked him for cutting telegraph wire, were not, perhaps, quite so altruistic nor so optimistic.

But the experiment was tried. A military government was abandoned for a form of civil government in 1916. In 1916, the Filipino was considered ready for a try at partial self rule. The Jones bill was passed. It created a Philippine legislature and in a way indefinite as to time, but definite as to ultimate intention, it reiterated the understanding that the Philippines were some day to be independent.

If the situation was at times exasperating before 1916, it became doubly so thereafter. Gov. Harrison, Wilson appointee and disciple of Wilsonian idealism, turned the Filipino loose to run his own affairs. The Filipino ran his affairs nearly into the ground. Natives took the bit of new political power in their teeth and all but wrecked the institutions former American administrators had so carefully erected.

When Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood was appointed governor general he was confronted with a chaos that called for heroic measures. He tried heroic measures and his reward was to win the opposition of Filipino nationalists. The native legislature has consistently attempted to block every remedial piece of work Gen. Wood sought to accomplish. Friction between American administration and native population has grown, and remains, acute.

To let go the Philippines completely would be the easiest way out for this country. As a military and naval base for the protection of American trade routes to the east and even as a commercial asset, they represent as much of a hazard as they do a benefit. The real argument against abandonment is, not that it would be materially hurt the United States, but that it would be bad for the Filipinos. Plenty of other nations are willing to step into the Philippines' shoes. To let them go would be to throw them overboard.

The second alternative, for the United States to hold the Philippines permanently, would be equivalent, in the light of the Jones bill, to breaking faith.

What will happen when the United States does grant freedom to the Philippines? We hope that the folly of giving freedom and retaining responsibility is apparent. What will happen before the United States can grant freedom to the Philippines? This country does not want to revert to the old days of "civilizing 'em with a Krag," yet every day that the present situation remains unsettled increases the not at all unlikely possibility of really serious trouble.

America, retaining control over the Philippines on the present basis, is in the position of the man holding the bear by his tail.

THE MORAL EQUIVALENT OF HAND-SHAKING.

President Coolidge shook hands with more than 1,500 visitors at the White House last Easter. This year, upon his physician's advice, he announced he wasn't going to do any shaking at all, and we find nothing in the accounts of the Easter celebration at the White House to show that he changed his mind.

Wholehand shaking is a cruel strain on a delicate piece of machinery. The heavier the handshakes the greater the strain. Politicians have a trick which prevents the other fellow from shaking, but the most accomplished of politicians have sore hands and neuralgia at the end of a hard campaign.

The best that can be said for the hand-shake as a salutation is that it expresses friendliness. The warm right hand of fellowship. It must be obvious that the President can't have any genuine affection for a thousand fellow citizens he never saw before and never heard of. They may feel warmly toward him, having read about him in the papers, but he can't shake their hands with anything but indifference in his heart. To expect him to shake his carpal into the bone-crusher and feel kindly toward the instrument of torture is to declare him superhuman.

That is what a great many people do think. The people who want to press the flesh at the end of their right arms against the flesh at the end of the President's right arm have some notion in their heads that the act of touching gives them a worthiness which they otherwise would not have. It is good to have entered the presence and much better to have touched the flesh.

The institution of the wholehand handshake is more than a little silly and barbaric. Civilized people would abolish it. There is no danger that the passing of promiscuous handshaking would mean the passing of polite greetings between acquaintances. The Romans and the Indians knew how to greet without physical contact. Their greeting had grace and dignity. No salutation in our world equals the bow of the court of Louis XIV. If we bowed more and clasped hands less, we should be more graceful human beings and no less friendly.

COVERING UP IN THE SENATE.

Thomas Woodlock, whose nomination to the interstate commerce commission was recently approved by the senate, is a Roman Catholic. The Ku Klux Klan decided that under the circumstances he could know nothing about railroad rates and brought pressure upon senators to defeat him. The senate went into executive session, as usually does when considering nominations, and there was a debate which lasted for hours. It ended with the endorsement of Mr. Woodlock.

At this point the senate broke with its traditions. It has generally kept the discussion of nominations a secret, but it has, with only the fewest exceptions, published the vote of each senator upon the nominee. This time it didn't. All that was made public regarding the deliberations was the total vote for and against.

Now the senators are getting telegrams from their constituents demanding to know how they voted. Senator Overman of North Carolina says he lost no time writing back to the home folks that he voted no. Senator Pittman of Nevada says he wanted to do as much for his constituents, but he had been warned by Senator Smoot that if he did he would lay himself liable to expulsion from the senate for a breach of faith. Nobody in Nevada knows how Mr. Pittman voted. Human nature being what it is, Mr. Pittman fears that the Kluxers will think he voted for Mr. Woodlock and the anti-Kluxers will think he voted against him. That will not help much on election day.

The senators were thinking only of the disadvantages of forthrightness when they kept their votes secret. They forgot the compensating advantages. If coming clean consolidates the enemy, it also consolidates the friends. The Klan has run the senators so far up the street that they have lost the way home.

To avoid future embarrassments of the sort, Senator Neely proposes full publicity hereafter for debates as well as roll calls on nominations. Senator Neely may be going too far in the direction of pitiless publicity. Nakedness which is all right in the bathtub is not good on Madison street. When the senate advises and consents, it is really acting in an executive capacity. To ask the senate to consider nominations in public is not very different from asking the President to make public all the considerations which prompted him to make his selections. The choice of men is the soul of the executive's success, and it is as much a matter of instinct as of reason. It does not lend itself to debate.

A man might be unfairly subjected to the kind of publicity that an open debate on his qualifications would entail. A senator may say about anything he pleases and not be held accountable for it. If he slanders a nominee in secret session, it is bad enough, but at any rate the slander cannot be repeated with impunity outside the senate chamber. Publicity may be good or injurious, required or to be avoided.

The traditional way was better. The country can thank the Klan for terrorizing the senate into a departure from traditional American practice. The senate will save itself embarrassment in future by establishing a rule requiring publication of the yea and nay vote on nominations and sticking to it.

Editorial of the Day

A CHICAGO LANDMARK PASSES.

(Rock Island (Ill.) Argus.)

South Water street, on which Chicago was born, is barricaded to traffic as a new $24,000,000 double decked boulevard linking Michigan avenue and Market street is taking form. Only Wall street in New York, some one has said, has seen more ups and downs and can recount more fortunes lost and made than old South Water street. The older Chicagoans, as well as residents of other communities who frequently visited this wonder spot, will miss it—trucks, cranes, squawking poultry, shouting drivers, bargaining hucksters, divers smelt, and all the sotsam and jotsam which made the street famous.

In the days of yore, when Chicago hotels provided game in greatest profusion for their guests, one could find buffalo, bear, and moose and every edible wild animal meat offered for sale on South Water street, and a walk through that crowded alley street was as good as a visit to a menagerie. But its glories have departed forever, and none there are who for reasons of sentiment regret its passing. Chicago will find another spot for the vendors and the new Chicago will forget the old street. But the old timers will congregate occasionally and swap reminiscences of bygone days, in which South Water street figured large. It helped to make up the Chicago of the past and it was not the least among its attractions.

"SILICOSIS."
A SPECIAL bulletin of the New York department of labor is devoted to silicosis. But you say, "What do I care or know about silicosis, and therefore why read about this bulletin?" If you work in a very dusty place you may be interested. At any rate, you had better take a little time to read about it.

Silicosis is a disease which is due to the inhalation of dust. It is caused by the dust of silica, or silicates, in just the right physical and chemical combination. The word says: "Anticipating legislation in the near future with a view to affording compensation to workers in industry suffering from silicosis, this bulletin is submitted."

Sand dust harms the lungs because it is so fine, because it is insoluble, and because it forms minute particles, which stop up the spaces in the tissues. The dust particles which do the harm are about the size of bacteria. Ten of them, side by side, make a mass but little broader than a red blood cell. Particles of this fineness are not stopped by the ordinary respirator, or by a cloth held against the face, serving as a home made respirator.

Since blood cells and bacteria get through the tissues, it would be thought that sand particles would be stopped by the meshes of which there is a cloth held against the face, serving as a home made respirator.

One case is cited where an exposure of about 6 weeks was enough to do up a healthy young man. That, however, is not the rule. Sand blasters go down in five years as an average; granite workers in 10 to 20 years; while 20 years is required to knock out the average pottery worker.

The early symptoms of sand lungs are these: Shortness of breath; next, a slight cough night and morning, without expectation; then irritation in the nose; a feeling of getting to the bottom of his breath; later, there are high blood pressure. If you have a blood pressure test last week which showed 135, two years ago it was 160. Please give a diet. I am 71 years of age, married, a farmer and still on the farm. I did post holes, pits, bundling, chop wood and kindling and other work about the place. I am 5 feet 3 inches and weigh about 120 pounds. Of a nervous temperament, I would say, I am emotional and more so now than ever. My father was also.

Please tell how best to counteract high blood pressure. I do not use salt or pepper, beans, meat [except chicken], drink coffee once a day, sugar and cream. I do not use the largest factor in blood pressure. Please tell what would promote my health best and longevity.

REPLY.
If you have no kidney or heart trouble and no disease of the kind that goes with high blood pressure you have reason to feel pretty happy about yourself. I judge your diet to be about right. Chicken is a good food, but you should eat some other food besides chicken or beef. You can do much to promote emotional restraint. Send 10 cents and stamped, addressed envelope for booklet on blood pressure.

George Bell Jr., military commander at Fort Bliss, and the civil authorities from sources considered reliable.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The long heralded crisis in the relations of the United States and Germany over the latter's submarine warfare is at hand, according to high administration officials who participated in conferences on the situation in the White House. Mr. Wilson is reported to have vented his feelings in assertion that something drastic must be done to Germany. He indicated clearly a strong inclination to sever diplomatic relations.

REIL: One morning, not so very long ago, you told us a short little story about an even shorter refrain—the poignant, piercing melody of a lone instrument when all the others had momentarily ceased their efforts. And you earnestly told us how much you appreciated that fleeting bit of harmony of beauty. Well, spring is like that, R. H. But after all, my dear, there are conventions. And that is why I did not bid you stay: Although I could have kept with happy anguish, It would not do you, know, for me to say That you alone now reigned among the idols, That all my gods to you now bent the knee: For, when he laughed and loved on Mount Olympus, Even he himself observed propriety.

The splendor of you claimed affection's tribute; My heart capitulated at your sight: But while my soul sang canticles and psalms, I had to be correct and say "Good-night!"

THE EASTER EGG rolling on the White House lawn Monday looks like a plot of the wits to gain the attention of the senate wife and her committee. You see, eggs are what they used to use to put in sherry wine. Bet when the senate committee saw those lovely eggs bumping around the White House lawn and not a drop of sherry in sight they broke right down and cried.

O, SAY, CAN YOU SEE—TUMPTY TUM TUM TUM TUM.
To Gauthier 'ans, Avior. Perhaps you know more about this great country than the thousands of people who have spent years in a study of its history. If so, tell us about some of those shady deals which you wax so fluently on. Oh, no doubt, a person of your wonderful intelligence will surely be able to do this. Do you really think that a republic, which has a law making it the protector and guardian of weaker sister nations, would stoop to pick a quarrel of its own accord with a practically helpless nation? Say, fellow, your place is with the rest of the rubbish being deported from this square dealing nation on account of being very undesirable citizens. The sooner such miserable, sneaking, mucking, knockers as you, S. L. The Baron Waste, and A. Dick: Snowshoe Al may not have intended his "Bed Time Stories" for children—but man alive, he hadn't met mine! I've only read that darn book through three times to them since Saturday and they're howling for more. They know it by heart and the wall that goes up if I skip a word makes the downstairs neighbors pound on the water pipes: "That's not the way it goes, Mummy, that's NOT THE WAY IT GOES!" I've tried to switch them off on "Alice" and "Helen" and "Andrews" and even the expurgated "Arabian Nights"—thinking even that more appropriate than Snowshoes, but try and do it! What do you advise?

A Review of the Facts.
To Gendarme: I am under the impression that S. L. said that the United States is not a perfect nation. He did not hold up any other nation as being better. Also remember that a wrong is a wrong, that it is no worse to conquer an utterly defenseless nation than to conquer one barely able to put up its hands. It was no worse of England to scatter the Acadians than it was for the U. S. to fight Mexico in 1846.

THE GREATNESS OF SPAIN.
Gary, Ind., April 2.—Your frequent editorials and news concerning Spain are just as comical as some chapters in Cervantes' masterpiece, "Don Quixote."

In your latest you wish to know why Catalonia does not try the league of nations. If you would ask my friend Primo de Rivera he will tell you that Catalonia must await her turn because the Philippines and Porto Rico are first.

I also read that Paulino Uscudum, the French Basque, or Russian, or whatever weight, who was born in Spain of Spanish parents, knocked out the British idol in the first round.

In a few days I expect to read of the arrival in Spain of Commander Ramon Franco, the French or Italian transatlantic flyer, who was also born in Spain of Spanish parents.

STEAM SERVICE FOR HOWARD STREET.
Chicago, April 3.—While living in Evanston, I took the habit of riding to and from the loop on the Northwestern. There are no sharp curves, sudden stops and starts, standing crowds and disconcerting noises, such as characterize the "L" trains. A short walk after arriving at the central station after a wholesome ride adds vigor for the day.

Since living in the Howard street district, I ride the "L" for necessity. The Northwestern does not have a station there, but their tracks are visible from the "L" platform, and as I saw their trains speed past this morning I wondered why a few of them could stop at Howard.

MARKING HISTORIC SITES.
Chicago, April 5.—Two weeks ago THE TRIBUNE advised the Daughters of the American Revolution to locate the third of their national administrative group of buildings in Michigan—somewhere near the center of things—but the Daughters persist in their regard for Washington as the national capital of the United States and so are disinclined to advise freely and publicly given and are building their auditorium in Washington.

However, it is a pleasure for them to find themselves in entire agreement with the editorial in Monday's paper which advises the marking of historic sites throughout the country, especially some of the famous trails which civilization followed in its westward march.

The Daughters are doing, and always have done during the thirty years of their existence, this very thing—marked historic places. They have now about completed the fund to mark the most famous of all old trails, the National Old Trails route, starting in Washington (our forefathers made the same mistake we do in starting trails from Washington) and continuing to the Pacific.

This trail, which leads through southern Illinois, was begun by George Washington, and was carried on by those Daughters of the American Revolution until it finally reached our Pacific coast. It is one of the most romantic roads in history, and probably the greatest in the development of the civilization of any nation. Marking these trails is part of the national work of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The Illinois Daughters, in connection with the counties, have marked the circuit which Lincoln followed as he traveled from court to court through central Illinois.

Several historic sites near Chicago have also been marked by local chapters. The Daughters of the American Revolution believe in commemorating great events and that preserving and marking historic places is a work of national value.

SANITARY DISTRICT'S SIGN.
Chicago, April 3.—Why is it necessary to have the large illuminated sign of the sanitary district marked, as so many per month by a sign company at the Lawrence avenue "L" station, as well as other similar signs about the city, some of which advertise the names of the French, Basque, or Russian, or whatever weight, who was born in Spain of Spanish parents, knocked out the British idol in the first round.

In a few days I expect to read of the arrival in Spain of Commander Ramon Franco, the French or Italian transatlantic flyer, who was also born in Spain of Spanish parents.

A CANADA JAY.

Franklin, Ill., April 2.—I am writing

answer to Mayflower's question about bird that she saw last summer, which was somewhat larger than a robin and out the same color except for a black and a white breast.

The Canada jay seems to fit this description. It is eleven and one-half inches long, which is one and one-half larger than a robin. It has a black cap and a white breast. Its habitat is in the northern part of the United States.

These birds are well known to hunters, trappers and campers in the northern woods. They are great friends, especially of the lumbermen, as some of the birds that they play serve to callen otherwise tedious day. They seem to be devoid of fear and enter camp and try off everything edible or not that they can get hold of. They are called guides and lumbermen by various names such as whisky jack, moose bird, and Virginia cherrin.

A TOWHEE OR CREWINK.

Chicago, April 2.—The bird Mayflower was probably a towhee, otherwise known as a crewink. This Tribune has thanks for calling attention to the bird in the snowy days

on us. HORACE W. O'CONNOR.

A GROUND ROBIN.

Berlin, Wis., April 2.—The bird which is a stranger to "Mayflower" is probably the crewink, sometimes called ground robin. The former name is de-ived from its call.

Not one person in a hundred knows that such a bird exists, because it is not common as its two broods a season

indicate.

If "Mayflower" is able to observe this bird in the nesting season he or she will be rewarded with a song worth going to hear. D. B. WATSON.

QUESTIONS FOR MAYFLOWER.

Chicago, April 2.—I would like to ask

Mayflower for a few more details. What was its lead, its wings, its tail, back, the sides of its breast, the nest itself, the throat? Were there any prominent markings on the head,

wings, the tail, the back, the sides of its breast, the breast itself, the throat? How did it fly? What time of year was it seen? What time of the day? What was the color of the bird thought its mate? With the above questions answered I can very probably identify what kind of bird it was. With meager details given I cannot make any rough guess.

Mayflower handed me a laugh when she said that she knew it was not a ground robin because they feed only on and logs. As a matter of fact the ground robin does not feed on dead logs.

It is on insects which fly. It does, however, rest on logs—not necessarily dead logs—because the log being nearly the Plans for Chicago's new Municipal court and police headquarters building, to be erected at State and 11th streets at a cost of $2,250,000, were approved yesterday by the finance committee of the city council.

The committee directed Col. A. A.

Sprague, commissioner of public works, to advertise at once for bids on a structure thirteen or fifteen stories in height. It is expected that the council will give final approval to the plan today.

The new building, a dream of city officials for years, will centralize all police and court activities in modern,

cozy quarters, giving Chicago facilities in these departments unsurpassed by any large city in the country.

Had $2,250,000 Bond Issue.

A conservative estimate of finances involved in the project calls for a total bond issue of $2,250,000, according to a report submitted by Aid. John

Clark [80th], chairman of the real estate subcommittee.

The thirteen-story building, it is estimated, will cost $2,000,000 with an added cost of $250,000 for equipment.

YEARS' DELAY IN
U.S. COURT ENTRY
FEAR OF LEAGUE

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
[Special: 1926. By The Chicago Tribune.]
WASHINGTON, April 6.—Washington's refusal to send a representative to the meeting at Geneva early in September, called by the league of nations to discuss the United States senate's reservations on the world court protocol, it persisted in, probably will result in the delay of America's adherence to the tribunal for several years, according to league members. They say they are astonished at President Coolidge's attitude. They point out that the primary reason for the conference is to discuss the reservations jointly, and to ask America's interpretation. By this they had hoped to save time and to avoid the possibility of a single nation blackballing America's entry, as Brazil blocked Germany's entry into the council of the league of nations. It is known that certain countries are unfavorably inclined toward the fifth reservation regarding advisory opinions, and the court itself believes certain interpretations seriously would curtail its independence.

Want U. S. Interest Defined.
The latter part of reservation 5 needs clarification, according to juridical experts. It wants a strict understanding on what constitutes the grounds whereby the United States could "claim interest" in a question which the council unanimously decided to refer to the world court for an advisory opinion. Also, they want to know whether the league council's unanimous action is to be conditioned upon the approval of the United States senate. Considerable ill feeling has arisen in many quarters regarding America's so-called demands for equality under the Versailles treaty mandates system and now under the Hague court. Answering the cries from across the water that America is being lamed into league activities, league members point out that, except for the case where the council's action might be impaired by the American senate's disapproval of the proposed conference, it has no connection whatever with the league.

Two Avenues Open.
If Washington does not participate in the meeting, two avenues still are open:
1. That the court members frame a joint note or questionnaire, which will be sent to Washington.
2. The negotiations will be continued separately, which course is expected to require years.

Hartford, Conn., April 6.—(AP)—A new grave in the quiet of Mount St. Benedict cemetery tonight held the body of Gerald Chapman. He was buried there at daybreak. GOING TO IOWA

Mrs. Mabel Hellicker, 30, the young woman he brought with him to Chicago as his prospective bride, last night became the girl he left behind him to 60 year old Pliny Richardson of Des Moines, Ia. Sadder but, perhaps, a little wiser, he climbed into the automobile he had been so surprised to discover in Chicago in the possession of Donald Freeland, his fiancé's friend, and headed into the rain toward Aurora.

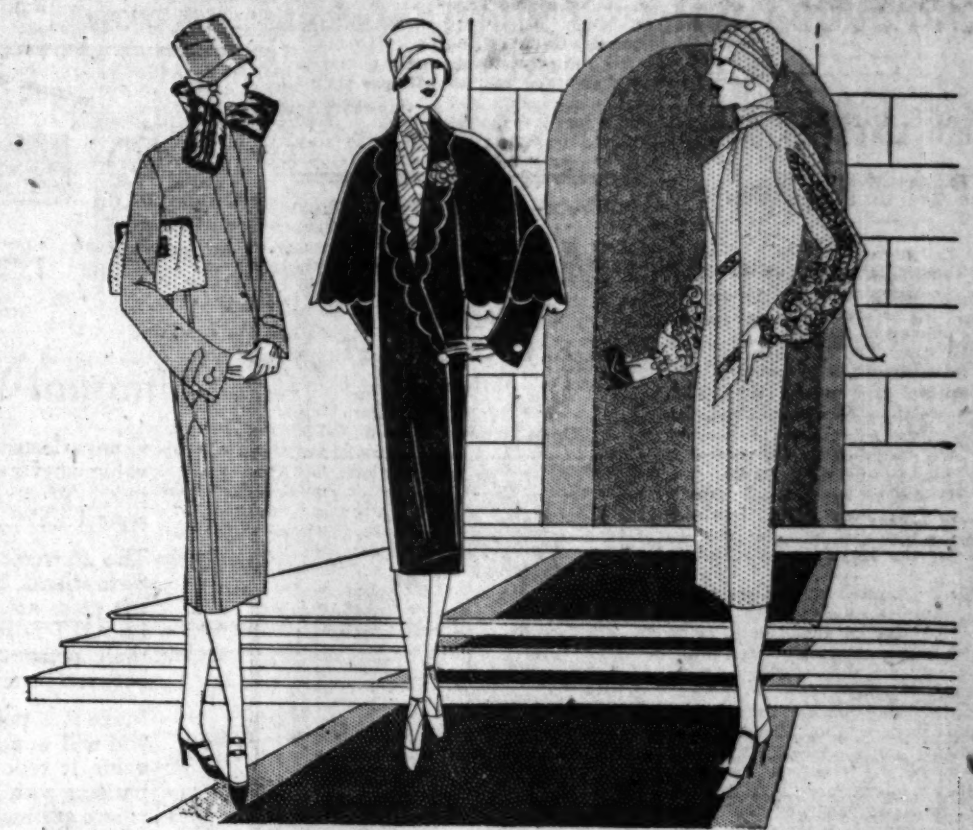

son street court, dismissed those Pliny accused on discovering that Mrs. Hellicker had good claim to the auto, the 1926 license having been purchased in her name. But she turned the auto over to Pliny, and he had no ill will, he said, for $2,000 spent on her or given her during the last seven months. "This," Pliny said, "is the third time I've been to court over women trying to get my money away from me. I've just got too big a heart."

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color. These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

Builds Up
Under-Nourished
Children

Children that are frail and under-nourished need a strength-giving tonic and body builder, especially at this time of the year. They should be given Coco Cod, the cod liver oil tonic, that tastes like chocolate, and that physicians agree is the best strength-giver known to medical science.

Coco Cod, in addition to the pure cod liver oil, contains the essential salts vitamins from yeast, eggs, rice and spinach, making a nutritive system builder that is unequalled in the treatment of malnutrition, under-nourishment and diets in children. Children like to take Coco Cod because of its pleasant taste.

Physicians recommend Coco Cod the treatment of weak or run-down conditions in young or old, quickly adds strength, increases weight and gives bodily energy and endurance.

Begin today—take Coco Cod for health. Give it to the children to stay nature in building sturdy bodies in which to develop sound minds and thereby lay the foundation for success in life. Coco Cod all druggists.

DAWES' FIGHT ON FILIBUSTER MAY BEAR GOOD FRUIT

Senate Likely to Accept
Part of His View.

Washington, D. C., April 6.—[Special.]—In spite of a rather general impression that Vice President Dawes' proposal to amend the senate rules so as to stop filibusters and curtail useless debate had gone by the board, there is a good prospect that his crusade is to be successful, in part at least. A compromise on the subject is in the making, and the fact that it is being sanctioned by Senator Curtis, the Republican floor leader, indicates that some form of cloture may be adopted at the present legislative session.

While the limited cloture plan does not go as far as Vice President Dawes and Senator Curtis desire, it is being construed as an entering wedge. The modified plan provides for what is cloture, in effect, through permitting the previous question to be moved on annual appropriation bills and revenue raising bills. A majority vote would adopt the previous question, with that adoption meaning that debate would be stopped and the senate proceed to vote. It is understood that Senator Oscar W. Underwood, who offered a proposed rule for majority cloture to carry out the ideas of the Vice President, has consented to the modified plan.

This would prevent a recurrence of a phase of filibustering of which the Vice President complained to an astonished senate in his inaugural address on March 4, 1925.

There is certain to be considerable opposition, with the claim advanced that the proposal is designed to "save the face" of the Vice President.

SPANISH FLYERS END SECOND LAP OF MANILA HOP

TRIPOLI, North Africa, April 6.—(AP)—Two planes of the Spanish air squadron, flying from Madrid to Manila, landed at the Tripoli aerodrome this afternoon. They were piloted by Capt. Gonzalez-Gallardo and Capt. Loriga. With Capt. Estevez, leader of the expedition, they reached Algiers yesterday from Madrid and started on their flight for Tripoli early today. Capt. Estevez was delayed along the way, and in accordance with previous agreement, the others went on without him. They will leave for Bengasi at 7 a. m. tomorrow, on the third stage of their journey, a distance of about 700 miles. They covered between 800 and 850 miles today.

Lands at Tunis.

TUNIS, French North Africa, April 6.—(AP)—The plane piloted by Capt. Estevez, leader of the Spanish Madrid to Manila flight, landed at the aerodrome here at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Tribune Want Ads Rent Apartments Quickly

Looking around for the new home is a wearisome ordeal. Several days on the street pulverize the hardiest spirits. People dread the strain of it. It is with relief that they turn to their favorite Chicago's leading want ad newspaper and choose from the offerings there.

Tribune Want Ads are the first thought of those planning to move. In 1925 The Tribune carried 302% more lines of Apartment-to-Rent advertising and 135% more separate advertisements than the next Chicago newspaper. This leadership gives Tribune readers the greatest number of offers to choose from. It makes it easy for prospects to select apartments quickly.

With a short renting season it is imperative that you get in touch with the greatest number of prospects. The Tribune makes it possible to do so, as no other newspaper can. More than 725,000 persons buy The Tribune daily, and 1,100,000 on Sunday. The confidence of this great audience in The Chicago Tribune aids advertisers and speeds response to Want Ads.

If you are seeking new tenants this spring let Tribune Want Ads tell your story. Be sure to tell all the essential details. Dramatize the advantages of your apartment.

THE PERFECT MOTOR OIL

CONSULT CHART

Count the Cost of Poor Oil

and you will realize the importance of perfect lubrication. Repair bills and bills for overhauling are only a part of the cost of poor oil.

It is estimated that the premature scrapping of approximately three million cars a year is in a large measure due to faulty lubrication. The cost of poor oil is prohibitive.

To keep your engine properly oiled all the time is a simple matter. Employ the aid of lubricating experts to determine the particular kind of oil for your type of engine. Consult the chart at any Standard Oil Service Station or Authorized Garage, and use the grade of Polarine that is there recommended and designed expressly for your car.

Polarine is the perfect motor oil. Use it and you will enjoy a smooth running car, and save money. Correct oiling pays.

FRANCO-RUSSIAN ALLIANCE SEEN IN MOSCOW SPEECH

Tchitcherine Points Way to New Power Balance.

BY HENRY WALES.
 (Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
 PARIS, April 6.—Russia's long isolation with France has culminated with a proposal for a reconciliation. This is the interpretation of Foreign Minister Tchitcherine's statement among officials here. The statement was made in Moscow as an answer to the league of nations' invitation to Russia, to attend the disarmament conference.

It is pointed out that the European balance of power may be judged again.
New Balance of Power?
 "The next few weeks may reveal startling and profound changes in continental foreign policies and European relations," said a foreign office official today. In discussing the Tchitcherine pronouncements. "The soviet minister made significant statements concerning Britain and Germany and made direct overtures to France which are unmistakable in their character."

M. Tchitcherine's speech definitely sidetracks the league of nations preparatory disarmament conference so far as Russia is concerned, although he carefully dodges the blame, reminding the world that he first suggested a reduction of armaments at the Genoa conference in 1922.

Foreign Minister Tchitcherine's offer of an alliance with France automatically removes the Polish millstone from Franco's neck, it is pointed out, as the potential power of Russia will more than compensate as security against Germany for the loss of the little entente powers.
 "A close rapprochement with Russia, if sincere, and accompanied by concrete acts evincing good will, undoubtedly would be beneficial to France," said a government official whose specialty is dealing with the Russian question.
Call Duke to Lead Army.
 About 500 delegates, representing Russian emigrants and exiles all over the world at the White Russian congress, today leaped on chairs and tables, cheering themselves black in the face, when President Strouwe, in a stinging appeal, called on his "Imperial Highness Grand Duke Nicholas," uncle of the late Czar Nicholas, to become grand chieftain of national Russia and assume command of the army to rescue the country and liberate the people from the communist oppression.

'COMMON PEOPLE' OF MONACO WAR ON MONTE CARLO

MONTE CARLO, April 6.—(AP)—The casino of Monte Carlo, which pays all the governmental expenses of the tiny principality of Monaco, is confronted by a still unorganized but gradually crystallizing opposition in Monaco itself, which holds that the great gambling palace under its present régime is extremely harmful to the little country.
 A weekly paper, Tout Va, meaning

"everything goes," has been founded for the express purpose of disclosing alleged casino scandals and attempting to clean up Monte Carlo politics, which the editor, Sylvia Fabie, asserts are the worst in the world. This paper is printing a series of articles charging that Sir Basil Zaharoff, credited with being the casino's principal owner; the director general of the casino, one of its principal stockholders, and prominent Paris bankers are the actual rulers of the principality.

Tout Va declares these men, through the casino special police, are able to rule despotically in Monaco, protecting their subordinates and stopping all investigations of their activities.

A detailed black and white illustration of a high-heeled shoe, likely a Mary Jane style. The shoe features a pointed toe, a high stiletto heel, and a thin strap across the foot. The entire shoe is filled with a dense, repeating pattern of the word "SHOE" in various orientations, creating a textured, mosaic-like effect.

A black and white fashion illustration by Suzanne for 'FRENCH CLOTHING'. The illustration depicts two women in 1920s-style fashion. The woman on the left wears a short, sleeveless dress with a wide, light-colored shawl collar and a dark, patterned skirt. She holds a small bird in her right hand. The woman on the right wears a similar dress with a light-colored skirt and a dark, patterned shawl collar. She has her hand resting on a piece of furniture. In the top right corner, there is a logo with the text 'SUZANNE' above a crest and 'FRENCH CLOTHING' below it. The background is simple, with a dark area on the left and a light area on the right.

PITTSBURGH BOY WINS AMATEUR BOXING TITLE

Lyons Victor in Flyweight
Final.

Boston, Mass., April 6.—(AP)—Lawren Lyons of Pittsburgh became 112 pound amateur boxing champion of the United States here tonight. He outpointed John Haggerty, a fellow townsman, in the final of the Amateur Athletic Union's national boxing championship program.

Boston sent two men into the finals. Dartmouth college, Lawrence, Mass., Brockton, Mass., University of Virginia, San Francisco, and Los Angeles qualified one finalist each. Pittsburgh also carried off the 118 pound class championship when Joe Kaskish scored a technical knockout over Jimmy Morrell of Boston.

For the second year the national 175 pound championship became the possession of Henry Lamar of the University of Virginia. He had a decisive margin in his bout with Joe Monte of Brockton, Mass.

In the 147 pound division final Ed Tiernan of New York proved himself the class of the field by winning from Charles Holman of Pittsburgh by a wide margin.

A New York boy, Patsy Buffalo, won the 126 pound championship with a close decision over his fellow New Yorker, Jack Donohue.

OUT OF TOWN BOXERS ENTER C. A. A. U. MEET

Officials of the Central A. A. U. boxing tournament, which will be held April 20 to 24, at the Dexter Park pavilion, yesterday reported that entries are coming in rapidly, which insures a large field of the best boxing talent in the middle west. It is planned to limit the field if the entry becomes too large.

Boxers from Rockford, Ill., and Milwaukee, Wis., have sent in their nominations, while many others are promised from other Badger cities. Walter Liginger, secretary of the Wisconsin boxing commission, and chairman of the Central A. A. U. boxing committee, is handling the Badger entries and in addition will be in full charge of the meet. Harry Bers and other competent A. A. U. officials will be his assistants.

The Rockford boys will represent Sammy Mandell's gymnasium.

Londos Tosses Gardini as Fans Boo Defeated Wrestler

Jim Londos tossed Renato Gardini for two out of three falls in the so-called feature bout of the wrestling show staged at the Coliseum last night. Although Gardini won the first fall with a flying mare, followed by a headlock, in 16:30 and weakened Londos perceptibly, the latter came back stronger in the second and third falls, winning both with a Japanese armlock, the second in 16:30 and the third in 18:30. Gardini continually was booed by the 3,000 fans who attended the match.

Before the bout began Ald. Thomas Bowler (41st), member of the city athletic commission, made a brief speech. He said that the committee would do all in its power to bring a favorable vote on the boxing bill and promised the fans that they would witness clean wrestling in the future.

Whladek Zhyzsko, the principals in the alleged fake show at the Ashland Boulevard auditorium last week, are to appear before the commission at the city hall today. Ald. Bowler said, and explain why they failed to show up for the second fall in the west side match. The advertisements had billed their bout as the best two of three falls.

Ald. Bowler didn't explain why action against the wrestlers was postponed until after last night's bout.

In the semi-windup Frank Judson, the former Harvard wrestling instructor, and Whladek Zhyzsko wrestled thirty minutes to a draw. Hans Steinke planned Joe Zickman with a body scissors in 28:30 in the second match, and Stanislaus Zhyzsko and Jack Sherry went to a 20:00 draw in the opener.

Fight Decisions

Decisions of Tribune boxing representatives are:
At Reading, Pa.—Willie Davies beat Martin Gold (8); Pauling Willard beat Jimmy McCallister (8).
At New York—Phil McFarland beat Johnny Kooze (12); George Courtney stopped Lew Warshaw (13).

Illinois Loses 10 to 0 Game to Alabama

Tuscaloosa, Ala., April 6.—[Special.]—While pitcher Hutto was subduing the University of Illinois today, Alabama sounded out an easy victory, 10 to 0. The Illini played miserable ball in losing, their first game on their southern tour. Illinois was able to get only three hits off Hutto, and D. Lewis, who succeeded him in the last two rounds.

Alabama played errorless ball, while the Illini made five miscues. Illinois threatened only in the ninth inning when it got men on second and third. Score:

Give your pipe a chance!

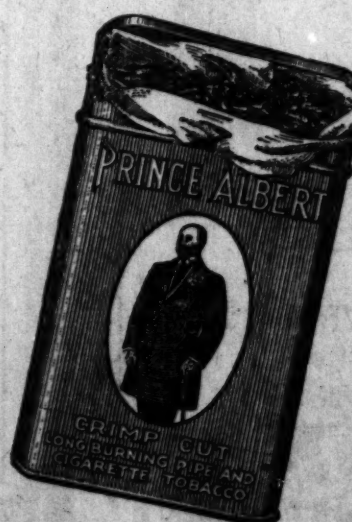

SOME pipes were "born with two strikes on 'em." Just never had a chance to offer their best. You can judge your pipe only by the tobacco you put in it. If you haven't smoked P. A., your pipe hasn't had its chance. To those men who know the keenest pipe-enjoyment, Prince Albert stands out like a beacon of cheer on a moonless night.

Prince Albert has put pipes into the mouths of more men than any other tobacco that ever came down the pike . . . and has kept them there! Because no other tobacco is like P. A. Cool and fragrant as mountain air murmuring through the pines. Sweet as the breath of spring.

P. A. won't bite your tongue or parch your throat, because the Prince Albert process cut out bite and parch right at the outset of P. A.'s brilliant career. This means that you can hit it up with your jimmy-pipe and P. A. from the minute breakfast is over until you nestle down between the sheets at night. You not only can, but will!

If you're looking for proof, you needn't search beyond the nearest shop where they hand out smoke-gladdening in tidy red tins marked "Prince Albert." Give your pipe a chance. Pack it with P. A. and light up. That first wonderful pull will tell you P. A. was simply made-to-order for you!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, round and half-round tin bundles, and round crystal-glass humidor with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

EARLY ADVANCE
IN WHEAT LOST
ON LATE SELLING

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Professional speculators had the wheat market to themselves, and while May advanced to $1.59, early on strong cables from Liverpool, it broke later to $1.57, and the finish was well toward the inside figures, with prices unchanged to 3/4c lower, with May $1.57, July $1.55, September $1.53, and October $1.51.

Corn was 1/2c lower to 3/4c higher after a day's range of 1/4c, with May $1.14, July $1.12, and September $1.10. Oats were 1/4c higher to 1/2c lower, with May $1.14, July $1.12, and September $1.10.

Local Long Sell May Wheat.
A local operator who was a good buyer of May wheat at the close on Monday went out of his line at the last and added to the decline to the low point of the day. Minneapolis offered No. 2 northern spring wheat to come here at practically a working difference as compared with May, and the spot basis here was 1/2c lower as compared with futures, with red winter leading. Eastern mills bought $1.00 from local handlers. Buying of July and selling of May by spreaders narrowed the difference slightly.

Weather conditions remain decidedly favorable for the new winter wheat crop, with further moisture for the spring grain belt. Sentiment is generally bearish on the new crop futures and on May wheat. There are only 64,000 bu. contract wheat in store here and very little delivery day is only three weeks away. Supplies on ocean passage decreased 1,686,000 bu. for the week and are 4,882,000 bu. against 4,096,000 bu. last year.

Oats Show Strength.
Scattered commission house buying was in evidence on the breaks in corn, while local traders were the best sellers. Outside interest as a whole is not large, and there is a noticeable lack of investment buying. Cash basis was 1/2c higher to 1/4c lower, with a slow eastern demand. St. Louis reported 35,000 bu. sold for export, and a little business was put through at the seaboard.

The continued unfavorable weather for oats seedling and export sales of 100,000 to 200,000 bu. at the seaboard led to a bid claim of buying and a higher range. Grain closed around 3,000,000 bu. had been sold recently from that market to the seaboard for export. The northwest bought May and sold July at 1/2c difference, and houses with eastern connections did the reverse. Rye was dull, with sufficient scattered buying to offset the sales loss in wheat. A little export business was done at the seaboard.

Flaxseed at Buenos Aires closed 1/2c lower, with May $1.54, and June $1.56 per bu.

Pathe Exchange Net
New York, April 6.—(Special.)—In its report for 1925 Pathe Exchange, Inc., shows a net income of $1,401,757 after interest, depreciation, and taxes. This is equal, after preferred dividends, to $7.67 a share on the 177,561 of combined class A and class B common stock outstanding.

In 1924 net earnings were $1,312,609, or $7.14 a share on the common stock. Gross sales for 1925 were $18,151,827, compared with $16,469,385 in 1924. Other income was $260,102, against $284,476. Cost of sales were $16,614,946, compared with $16,020,520. Total assets for 1925 were $10,244,800; current assets, $6,521,692; current liabilities, $886,874; plant, etc., $4,197,127; reserves, $144,515; surplus, $4,911,711.

CASH GRAIN
NEW

The United Kingdom, Germany, Greece, Italy, and Norway were after cash wheat at the seaboard, and sales in all positions were estimated at 1,000,000 bu. including 500,000 bu. durum to the continent. Japan has bought a little new crop wheat from the Pacific coast at about Chicago September price.

Little was heard regarding business done on crop winters at the end. Oats sales were 100,000 to 200,000 bu. over 30,000 to 40,000 bu. with a little rye and barley. Chicago was 1/2c higher to 3/4c lower, with 40,000 bu. corn, and 74,000 bu. oats to the seaboard, the wheat including $1,000 bu. durum to eastern mills.

Offerings of cash corn were not large with very dry grain wanted. Basis was 1/2c higher to 1/4c lower with No. 2 grades 1/2c higher to 1/4c lower. Offerings of cash corn were not large with very dry grain wanted. Basis was 1/2c higher to 1/4c lower with No. 2 grades 1/2c higher to 1/4c lower.

Official receipts of grain at Chicago Tuesday: Wheat, 9 cars; corn, 8 cars; oats, 3 cars; rye, 1 car; barley, 8 cars.

Day's sales												30,000												Year ago												Total, 1926												1925												Previous year												1924
Trading was generally dull in Chicago stocks yesterday. The active issues displayed strength, however, the lead being attained by Auburn Automobile, which was up 2 points to 48. Midwest Utilities advanced 1 1/2 to 117 on a statement from the company that its subsidiaries report gross income of more than $6,500,000 a month for the first two months of 1926, or an increase of more than 60 per cent over the same period of last year for the subsidiaries then owned. Union Carbide was also up 1 1/2, closing at 82 1/2. Adams Realty gained a point to 29. On small stocks, U. S. Gypsum advanced 1 1/2, and Brach & Sons and Beaverboard preferred each moved a point higher. Kellogg Switchboard and Supply declined 2 points, and Deere preferred was 1/2 smaller than that of the same period of 1925. Operations are given as about 50 per cent of capacity.

The Adopted Wife

By Amelie Rives
(Pseudonym of Troubetzkoy)

SYNOPSIS.
Celia Gibbs is left an orphan by the death of her father, who bequeaths her to the care and charity of Hilary Fraser, one of his few friends. Hilary's sister, Laura Eversham, who lives in his home, is a French convent and, when she is eighteen, Hilary is greatly distressed by the thought of her going to a convent. A young Russian sculptor proposes to her, but she refuses his offer, and Hilary, in desperation, proposes to her himself in order that she may live in his home with her mother. Celia is happy in the arrangement until she overhears some gossip about herself and her "white marriage." She learns for the first time that her father had left her penniless. Hilary goes to Europe, and Celia decides to get herself a job. She applies to the St. Nicholas Theatre, where she is given a job as a day girl. She is the only one of her kind in the theatre, and she is greatly surprised to find that she is not alone. She meets a young musician, Vladimir O'Shea, who is greatly attracted to her. Hilary believes that Celia is in love with Vladimir and would like a divorce.

INSTALLMENT XXXIX.

A BITTER SCENE.

Celia now had her eyes on the plated silver girdle, which she was clinking together, alternately loosening and tightening it.
"Is that the way you feel when you loved some one?" she asked Hilary. In spite of his being so sorry for her, Hilary was vexed.
"I have told you that I was never really in love with any one," he said, coldly.
"You seemed to be so sure," murmured Celia.
"One isn't denied intelligence and observation, necessarily, because one is denied the power to love," retorted Hilary, becoming slightly Grandisonian in his speech, as he always did when irritated. Then he felt that his irritation was silly and shook it off.
"Perhaps I can clear up your doubts by a few questions," he said in his usual kind voice. "Shall I put them to you?"
"Yes, please," said Celia.
"Then, first of all, how would you feel if some one came in and told you that O'Shea was dead?"
Celia grew pale.
"I should be very unhappy," she murmured.
"How unhappy?" pressed Hilary.
"O, very, very unhappy."
"Unhappy enough to make you wish that you had been his wife before he died?"
"I . . . I don't know."
"This is quibbling!" exclaimed Hilary. "You must know. Well, aren't you going to answer?"
"I . . . I think so."

Hilary got up and stalked the room, and Celia sat looking at him, thinking a very strange that, having had no experience of love, he was yet so sure about its symptoms.
"You think . . . You think . . . You don't know . . . You suppose," growled he, coming back and standing over her. "I must remind you, my dear girl, that you are not a baby, though you persist in being so!"

"Thank you, I'd rather be alone," said Celia.

After this one. Either you love O'Shea or you don't love him. That's what I find out. Because, seriously, Celia, the time has come when I must act. She looked scared.
"You must act?"
"Yes, I . . . Again she stalked away, then back.
"Please listen to me very seriously," he said. "The time has come for me to speak out. If you are hurt by what I say, I shall be profoundly sorry, but say it I must."
"I want you to," said Celia.
"You said you wanted truth, not kindness," began Hilary. "Here it is, then. Though naturally I don't hear it, I know well that people have begun to talk—and unpleasantly—about your intimacy with O'Shea."
Celia took this in, though rather slowly, then her long throat reared itself and her face took on its "topple" look.
"I don't care in the least what people say about me," she assured him with extreme haughtiness.
"You may not, but I do," retorted Hilary.
"I will explain to you why," he continued in his coolest, most clear-cut way. "You see, what has apparently escaped you is the fact that you are not responsible for yourself alone but for me also."
He paused; then went on in a milder voice.
"You see, in the world's eyes you are my wife. You bear my name. He waited for this to sink in. It sank deeper and more bitingly than he had intended. Celia, who had grown quite pale again after her intense blush, turned livid. She bent her head, and he saw that her clasped hands were shaking.

"I'm very, very sorry to have hurt you," he said, compunction beginning to hurt him also. "But I had to do it. . . . You seemed so utterly blind to the side of the question, I simply had to."
"Yes, you had to," she said.
He could scarcely hear the words.
"I see that. . . . I quite understand . . . now."
Hilary took the chair near her again and put his hand over the shaking one.
"It hurt me awfully to have to hurt you, Celia," he said. "Do you believe me?"
"Yes."
"And do you see now that the situation forces me to act?"
"Act . . . how?" she asked.
"I must set you free—as soon as may be."
"Give me a divorce, you mean?"
"Of course."
"I won't accept it! I won't accept it!"
"You must let me be the judge in this, my dear."
She was shaking all over.
"I will never accept it," she repeated.
"Well," cried Hilary, almost as wrought up as she was and quite at the end of his patience, "you force me into a damned disagreeable position. Since you are so—be-longed to say 'pig-headed'—so obstinate, there's nothing I can do but see O'Shea himself."
Celia got to her feet, "all of a piece," as the French say.
She stared at him through a haze of horror.
"You . . . you . . . wouldn't do that?" she stammered.
"I most assuredly would and shall," replied Hilary. He had never been so much in his life and scarcely realized the full force of what he was saying. "I take it for granted that your good name is at least as dear to him as it is to me. And that he is a gentleman, with a gentleman's ideas of honor, so I shall leave you—not without deep regret—for good. You will get your divorce of divorce about a year after, I believe. I've only one thing to ask of you—that's for your own sake. Do not see O'Shea, even once, while the divorce is proceeding."
She stopped, out of breath, feeling quite giddy.
She was standing rigid before him, her gaze fastened on the floor.
She spoke at last in a strange, thin little voice.
"Will you . . . give me . . . three days to think it over?"
"To think it over?"
"Yes. If I decide to . . . to accept a divorce I will do just as you wish about it. And . . . if I find that . . . I don't . . . I will . . . never see him again."
His relief was so great that he felt numb from it.
He heard his voice saying with unnatural stiffness:
"That is only fair. Three days, then. Thank you, Celia."
"I may see him once, if I wish, during those three days?"
"Certainly."

He made a great effort to be natural again, but it was useless.
Let me call Donovan," he said as she turned away. "You ought to have someone with you."

"Thank you, I'd rather be alone," said Celia.

GASOLINE ALLEY—WALT SHOULD GIVE THESE GIRLS LESSONS

Mr. Harlan Has Five Tough Reels Before He Comes into His Own

"THE SAP"
Produced by Warner Brothers.
Directed by Erik Kenton.
Presented at the Biolo Theatre.
THE CAST.
Barry Weston Kenneth Harlan
Jeanette Mary McAllister
Vance David Butler
Barry's Mother Eulalie Jensen
Jeanette's Father John Cosar
Weisse Duke Heinz Conklin

By Mae Tinee.
The trouble with this poor boy was that his mother didn't raise him to be a soldier.
She'd hoped for a girl, and when the golden-haired fairy of her dreams failed to materialize she did the best she could to make a lady out of the little lump of man that was Barry. And succeeded horribly. In curls and velvet panties the unhappy youngster slid through childhood, shying at his shadow and all but passing away at sight of a cat, having inherited a wild fear of felines.
Of course the rest of the boys had a wonderful time with this choice morsel. Especially was the butt of the pleasantries of the town bully, who learned about the cat complex and acted accordingly.
O well, his mother loved him—poor, foolish, unaccountable criminal that she was—and Jeanette did, too. Jeanette was his girl.
The sap went to war. And came back all decorated with medals for bravery that—
He hadn't won!
The rest of the picture tells you what happens when a coward faces himself, calls himself by the name that's his, and decides to get rid of his streak of yellow, even if the operation takes his life.

The story is a pithy one, that has been well screened. But poor Kenneth—WHAT a rôle for a two-fisted sheik with a beesting upper lip! It's not till the sixth reel that he comes into his own. Dempseys all over the place, and emerges from mounds of human debris—the chief mood being Vance of the Cats—with gore on his face, valor in his eyes, and a reputation that in case of need would get him a job as a bouncer in any joint. This, though, only after five reels of ignominy.
A difficult rôle, played splendidly by Mr. Harlan.

Eulalie Jensen as sweet mamma is right in character. She peeks up the sleeve of his uniform to see if he has "on on." She adores him, and not to breathe any more of the night air but he can help, and she moans devoutly over the six framed curls that spelled so much misery for him in his girlish boyhood days. At that you can't help liking the woman as played by the expert Mme. Jensen.

David Butler as the thoroughly unpleasant and the bully—which is what he's supposed to be. It's a great moment for him when he gets his face smashed. Heinie Conklin, who runs the town soda fountain, is another good character. He contributes most of the comedy. Makes you laugh, too.
Everybody else in the piece is all right and you stay interested from alpha to omega, which means, I guess, that gazing upon "The Sap" is one way of spending a pleasant hour.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune, For today's question Mrs. Millie Cummings, 1449 West Van Buren street, was awarded $5.

THE QUESTION.

Did the government do a wise thing in permitting the manufacture of malt tonic?

The Answers.
Walter L. Dillon, 128 East 43d street, electrical contractor—
"Yes, I do. I hope it leads to the real beer. It is bound to come almost everybody wants it, and there being no harm in it, they ought to have it. That's the only way we can get out of our mixed-up, farcical prohibition muddle."

Miss Adele Ravino, 1350 Winnemac avenue, social worker.
"Yes, I do. Whatever it is, I think it was the wise thing to do. Absolute prohibition has been working a hardship on, and been harmful to the public. The manufacture and drinking of poisonous concoctions is harmful and it is against the law, and that's bad."

James J. Halligan, 5815 South 44th street, vocational training student—I believe it did. From all reports, it will be beneficial to people, especially women, who are anemic and in a run down condition. I understand it is a pure malt preparation, not stimulating, and no poison. That sounds like an ad. Miss Elsie Thompson, 189 North Clark street, stenographer—I haven't tasted it, so I don't know what kind of a drink it is, or is it a drink? I am in good health and coffee serves me nicely, but I am certainly going to try a bottle when I can get one. In the meantime, let's thank the government for the opportunity.

Ed Baker, 118 East 42d street, restaurant manager—This is a wet day and I am a wet fellow. Whatever this new malt business is, I'm for it for the good of the country. There are too many dry throats being wet these days with liquor. That have the wrong kind of a stick-kick—in them.

Housing Relief for Small Wage Earner Planned

Survey Reveals Crowding of Laborers' Families.

What Chicago shall do by way of meeting a serious problem of housing conditions among the small wage earners of the city will occupy the attention of a conference at the Hotel Sherman on April 16, under the auspices of the department of public welfare, which has just issued a report of a survey of such conditions. Miss Mary McDowell, commissioner of public welfare, will preside.

The situation will be discussed by Mayor Dever, Miss Edith Abbott of the University of Chicago, Miss Elizabeth Hughes, who made the survey; Alexander Bing and Henry Wright of the City Housing corporation of New York, Miss Harriet Vittum, and Prof. Richard T. Ely of Northwestern university.

In general the report of the survey details the crowded, insanitary, and even dangerous quarters occupied for the most part by colored and foreign tenants.

In 1,535 apartments visited, in areas fringing the industrial and commercial districts, 177 rooms without windows to the outside air were discovered. In several instances a large closet or alcove, or even a stair landing was converted into a separate room to accommodate a lodger.

Instances of overcrowding included a two room shack on Foraker street, where eight Mexican persons lived. An other Mexican household of fifteen lived in six rooms, for which they paid $30 rent.

Beauty Budget Dollar a Day, Expert Advises

A dollar a day keeps old age away, according to Paul Rilling, past president of the Chicago and Illinois Hairdressers' association, yesterday outlined a $7-a-week formula to make American women as beautiful as each can be.

Included in the formula are a shampoo, $1.00; tonic rub, $.50; manicure, $1.50; facial massage, $.50; manilaure, $1.00; eyebrow arch, $1.00; grand total, $7.00.

Government statistics show that American women spend $30,000,000 a day for beautification, Dr. Rilling declared.

Over 300 women in chic tight fitting hats came to yesterday's session of the Hairdressers' convention at the Hotel Sherman.

Gest Visions Chicago Future Artistic Center

Success of "Miracle" Is Proof, He Says.

BY RUTH RUSSELL.

Ending a world's record breaking engagement, "The Miracle" will have its final Chicago performance Saturday and that midnight will depart for a Philadelphia storage warehouse.

Sadly Morris Gest looks to the time when the cathedral interior of the Auditorium theater is no more, when the stars of Max Reinhardt's "religious" pantomime have scattered.

"Chicago accepts only that which is good," declared Mr. Gest yesterday. "The time is near when artistic productions will be both created and staged here in preference to New York. Here are gathered more artistic young men and women ambitious to see and study the fine arts than in any other city in America."

"Young people of prominent families who came to me for parts in 'The Miracle' are proof of the city's interest in real art," Mr. Gest said. "As many as twenty young girls came in a day, willing to play extra parts in order to be in the theater every night. Art students night after night were seen busily sketching the interiors and stage settings."

With no guarantee, except his faith in Chicago's appreciation, Mr. Gest brought "The Miracle" here Feb. 10. More than 104,000 persons came to see it. Some came from as far off as Oklahoma. More than 57,000 mail orders for tickets were filled.

In the success of Miss Elinor Patterson, Mr. Gest achieved a double triumph, he said. Not only the actress on the American stage possesses such personality, charm and simplicity nor gives promise of so much as this young Chicago girl. With her, Mr. Gest said he hopes to accomplish much in future productions.

In October "The Miracle" will reappear to open the Centennial exposition at Philadelphia. Kansas City already has raised $240,000 for a three weeks' engagement. San Francisco has pledged $500,000 and Los Angeles $325,000, opening on Christmas eve.

Acting as ambassador to the Moscow Art Theater Musical Studio next Monday, Mr. Gest announces it as the "most revolutionary movement in the music world at present; a synthesis of music and the drama, to heighten the dramatic significance."

"Chicago should feel happy to welcome the works of two outstanding geniuses in a single season. Max Reinhardt's 'Miracle' and Vladimir Nemirovich-Danchenko's Russian theater," Mr. Gest said.

Ten years ago, when the Russian ballet first came, Mr. Gest said he counted about twenty persons a night in the audience. Artistic growth and appreciation have been remarkable in the city since, he said.

During a two weeks' run the Moscow players will present "Carmen" and "The Soldier," based on Bizet's "Carmen" score as interpreted by M. Danchenko, and Aristophanes' "Lysistrata." The old Greek lyric comedy will be given for the first time in unexpurgated version, because it is done in Russian!

Bright Sayings
of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each child's saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unsolicited contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Amy Lee, The Tribune, Chicago.

Billy had gone with his mother to call on a friend, with the promise from him that he would sit on a chair and be a good boy.

Upon departure from the friend's home I asked him why he had not done as he had promised. Billy said, "But mother, dear, when I made that promise I did not know the lady had a dog."

Jimmy's mother told him he must not go across the street to see the twins so often, as they would get tired of him. "What, tired of me?" said Jimmy. "I guess not. Why, they like me next to their bottle." J. W.

A FRIEND IN NEED

Fine Place for a Camera.
"I am a young American now living in central Europe, where there are wonderful and interesting views of country, people, battlefields, etc. I would like to get a discarded camera to take some of these views, and in return I will send some of the pictures."

Perhaps some one who no longer cares about taking snapshots will give his camera to this young man so he can reproduce the lovely views he mentions in his letter.

Requests Books.

"An elderly woman of civil war time would be thankful for some old books of that time. I cannot go out and would be grateful for them."
"Mrs. M. R."
Have you any of the books this woman wants? She would certainly be happy to receive them.

Mrs. George Porter Opening Bookshop as Outlet for Energies

BY NANCY R.

Despite the fact that the George Porters are all settled in their top-of-the-world apartment at 20 East Cedar street, they are spending most of their time these days several blocks south of their new roofline. And here's the reason: they are engaged in the launching of a smart little bookshop down on Ontario street, just east of the drive.

Mrs. Porter (the former Miss Manassah) is endowed with such originality and pep I felt sure it wouldn't be long before she'd be up to something active and interesting. Her husband is an devoted a spouse as he was a beau, so it isn't surprising that he's giving up his time to his wife's new undertaking—they are to be seen at almost any hour of the day, working inside the little shop, or standing outside, gazing at its skyblue facade, while they plan what else to do to their new domain.

Aquarius is the name of the shop. Aquarius being the sign, I was informed yesterday afternoon, of the age and progress and brotherhood. And books that have to do with progress and brotherhood line the lemon yellow walls and repose on the blue shelves—an ultra modern collection of volumes.

It will be another week before the shop is finished and ready for business, but Mrs. Porter's charming younger sister, who is in Chicago now, and an equally charming young confidante are already presiding there. I understand they made their first sale yesterday, and as their first customer was about to pay for her purchase, she was presented with it—for luck, and at Mrs. Porter's special request," she was told.

Day's News in Society

Chicagoans in smart new "duds" made up no inconsiderable portion of the Easter parade as White Sulphur Springs, Mrs. Henry W. Parzun was wearing a gray ensemble costume, and Mrs. Eliphalet W. Cramer was in a black and white costume trimmed with furs. Mrs. Clement Acton Grisman II, of Philadelphia, the former Olga Lihme of Chicago, was in a knitted skirt of watermelon pink, a white knitted jumper, a white topcoat, and pink straw hat. Of the younger folk, Beatrice Kirk, in a gray and white costume with gray fox fur, and Barbara King, wearing a green wool skirt and hand and tunic of canary and green wool with green topcoat, were attractive figures.

The Benjamin Leslie Behrs, who are returning at White Sulphur until they go to Maryland for the race, gave a dinner party at Kate's Mountain club on Saturday evening.

A program by Mrs. Julie Manierre Mann and McNair Hagenfritz made a musical accompaniment to the march of the white elephants as they were carried into Mrs. Jacob Bauer's residence yesterday afternoon to restock the shelves of the White Elephant Rummage shop. Mrs. D. Mark Cummings, in a tailored frock of gray, received the guests in the entrance hall, where their gifts for the shop were unwrapped, ticketed, and put on display. Among the other hostesses were Mrs. George Hallock Taylor, in black satin; Mrs. Samuel T. Chase, in dark red with a smart little hat of the same shade; Mrs. Warren Salisbury, in deep lavender and gray; Mrs. P. A. Valentine, in black and white with a black and white figured crepe scarf; Mrs. Karl Harriman and Mrs. Thomas B. Marston.

The Opera club members who have been enjoying the keen little performances by the British players, Beatrice Little (Lady Pauline), Lawrence, and Jack Buchanan, will have a farewell treat in "A Night in a London Music Hall" to be given tonight at the members' including Mrs. Alexander H. Revell, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Ulrio S. Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Wade, Mrs. Charles Kittle, and Emil C. Wetten, have made reservations for large parties.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., April 6.—(Special.)—The Congressional club had its annual breakfast today in the ballroom of the Mayflower hotel, with Mrs. Charles G. Dawes as principal guest. Mrs. Lindsey H. Hadley, wife of the representative from Birmingham, Wash., president of the club presided. The president of the club, Mrs. Dawes, Mrs. Taft, Mrs. Keogh and Mrs. Longworth received in the Chinese room near the ballroom, Mrs. Hadley making the presentations.

Col. and Mrs. E. Lester Jones gave a dinner tonight for their daughter, Miss Cecil Lester Jones, and her house guest, Miss Sally Macdon, daughter of the former secretary of the treasury, who has spent the Easter holiday with her. They went afterward to the polo ball.

Mrs. Paul Crankin of Chicago is visiting her brother, John J. Daly, who had a dinner party last evening at the Chevy Chase club for her.

ANSWER TO WHAT'S WRONG HERE?

A solid handkerchief is a disgrace to any human being. H. H.

No more Shiny Nose!
Can it be true?

Here is a chance to prove for yourself that you can get rid of that oily, shiny look which ruins so many complexions. A wonderful new cream called "The Face" does it. Put it on in the morning, powder over it—and for hours your nose will keep just that dull, velvety look you want it to have. One girl says: "I have tried nearly every cream on the market, but Vauv is the first one that really does get rid of my shiny nose. The longer I use it the less I have to powder. My skin seems to get smoother every day, and blackheads have disappeared." It is for yourself. Go to your nearest department store and get a tube of Vauv. Use it for one week as directed. Then, if you are not entirely satisfied, mail me the tube and I'll refund your money and postage.

Be free at last from that worst of all nose troubles—shiny skin. Vauv (Vanishing Cream) is the only cream that does it. Write for free literature. Vauv, 187 W. Lake Street, Chicago.

Arnold Bennett Offers Panacea for All Domestic Ills
BY DORIS BLAKE.

A word to you wise men. Is it sufficient? Coming from one of your own sex we present it with the hope—But here it is: Arnold Bennett says: "A woman must be well dressed on a week. Her own is 80 per cent of her existence and probably less than 50 per cent of her husband's existence. And the eternal winning is accomplished mainly by a constant attention to externals."

"The husband may neglect his wife in small things, while magnificently conducting a profound unspoken affection for the neglected. Few wives have much use for tongues that don't speak, lips that don't smile, eyes that don't glisten, arms that don't embrace. Arnold must have been reading my mail. I have thought, sometimes, of inaugurating a Husband day, offering for their entertainment a batch of letters from wives who were won for the last time the day the woman washed his first oatmeal dish. But the futility of the proposition deterred it. The men who would accept the invitation to come and read what would make their wives happier would in all probability be the men who wouldn't need it. The other women say: "Who is this blinkety-blink old troublemaker, anyway? What more could my wife ask? Don't I house her and feed her? Didn't I buy her a fur coat last Christmas to keep her warm?"

Take it from Arnold, then, old dears, not from me, that a fur coat is not, but—there are things even more so, to a wife's heart.

In a country where freedom of speech is granted with the citizenship papers, why don't more men avail themselves of the privilege around home? They do, you say? Well, we didn't mean that way. We mean the other kind of speech—you know, the goey kind that makes the preparation of a meal a pleasure, the remodeling of last year's dress a cheerful duty.

Freshness
Why risk it by a single careless wearing of your dress?

Virginia Thomas, in Organ Recital, Proves Composer of Merit

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Virginia Carlington Thomas' organ recital at Kimball hall last night, her first appearance, in Chicago, revealed her as a rather better composer than player, and a better player of her own works than those of other composers. Her first movement, a single movement of a symphony from her pen, she displayed not only technical virtues, form, proportion, and the melody to keep the technical virtues alive. Her manner of thought usually follows the conventions of a past era, which in the majority of cases is good sense in organ music.

She played the work smoothly and clearly. As a matter of fact, most of her playing was clear, but there were many times when her rhythm grew unsteady and she made illogical changes of registration, in the middle of a phrase or elsewhere, neither of which are customary qualifications for good Bach playing.

Accompanied by an unexpected and undesired buzz of sympathetic vibrations—only in this case the vibrations were in reality unsympathetic—Guy Maier and Lee Pattison gave a program of music for two pianos at the Studebaker theatre yesterday afternoon. Most of their program had been previously played here at one time and another, but the performance proved once again that, in spite of no matter how many adverse circumstances, they are the best two-piano combination in the country. The concert was given under the auspices of the Chicago Woman's Aid.

BEAUTY ANSWERS
BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

K. C. G.: THE FOLLOWING EXERCISE will be found excellent for reducing the hips. Assume a correct standing position, with the feet about two foot lengths apart. Stretch the arms sideward. Try to touch the fingers of the left hand to the toes of the right foot, keeping the abdomen flat and the knees straight. Reverse, touching the left foot with the fingers of the right hand. Repeat this exercise, gradually increasing. You may have additional exercises for a stamped address envelope.

Follow This Rule
in skin care if safeguarding a good complexion is your aim

By NORMA TALMADGE

It is bringing the charm of natural loveliness to thousands

BEAUTY experts throughout the world now urge skin cleansing as beauty's most important aid.

Yesterday's artificial methods are quickly passing. Youthful appearance is thus preserved. Beautiful complexions by the thousands are resulting.

The rule is simple. No costly beauty methods, just the soothing olive and palm oil of Palmolive used in this way:

Wash your face gently with soothing Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of gold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away.

GOOPS! A Daily Lesson in Manners for Children

CRUELTY TO FURNITURE
A chair has four legs, like a horse; You wouldn't kick your nag, of course.

Chairs do not take your kicks more gladly, And when you do, you scratch them sadly.

But you are not a Goop, I'm sure, Who's cruel to the furniture!

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK
BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Date Cookies and Bars.
Many different recipes for date bars have been printed in this column, but here is another which can be recommended because it can be used for drop cookies of a pleasant or exceptionally agreeable sort, if they are well baked—that is, not so as to be dark around the thin edge.

One package of twelve ounces of dates, three eggs, one cup sugar, one-half cup oatmeal, one cup Graham flour, three teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half cup chopped English walnuts, two tablespoons lemon juice, one teaspoon vanilla.

Blanch the dates, then skin and seed and cut with fine scissors. (Dates ground in the food chopper become too mushy when blended with the dry ingredients.) Separate eggs and beat yolks and then sugar with them. Mix the nuts and dry ingredients and combine with yolk mixture. Add lemon juice and vanilla. To bake this for date bars line a pan with buttered paper, put in the date mixture and spread it in a thin sheet—about one-fourth inch thick, or a little more. Smooth over the top with a bread spatula, wet with cold water.

Bake for twenty-five minutes in a 350 degree oven. Cut in strips and drop into bag in which there is some confectioner's sugar.

For cookies drop pieces on the paper with a fair distance between each small spoonful, and bake in the same sort of an oven or one a bit cooler, for fifteen minutes.

These ought not to be in the slightest bit tough, as some date bary are. The date bary have so excellent a flavor that the accident of slight toughness will not matter much. It is pleasant to have a cookie that is decidedly the right hand. Repeat this exercise, gradually increasing. You may have additional exercises for a stamped address envelope.

Overeating Brings Skin Troubles as One of Its Effects

By GELETT BURGESS

Overeating, aside from the damage it does the figure, leads to disturbance of health, which, in turn, cause skin disease. A train of digestive disorders, from indigestion, constipation, and in these you find the source of cutaneous disorders.

Persons who exert enough energy in hard labor or hard exercise to stimulate the digestive process are not susceptible to the skin ailments of the overt and indolent.

This was demonstrated by an acquaintance who belongs to the class that can obtain without physical effort all the rich and rare foodstuffs it wants. The consequence was she looked it. In face and figure she looked it, and incidentally it might be remarked she was a most unhealthy looking sight. Her complexion was bad, pasty, and anything but clear.

Fairly young, she was one day bemoaning her unpopularity to an honest friend, who told her in brief words the reason for it. The result was she put herself into the hands of a physician. He ordered her to diet, first thing, and exercise.

I ran across her not long ago and the change was miraculous. At least thirty pounds had gone by the boards. But the improved quality of her skin was the thing that impressed me. I am used to seeing women improved with the weight reduction, but I have never seen such a beautiful change in color and tone of complexion.

The effect of overeating is likely to show directly on the skin, either in a greasy, muddy complexion, or in a flushed or pesty face. Constipation, of course, is at the root of the trouble. In the majority of cases it, in turn, is due to neglect of a few of the simple rules of health.

In the absence of regular exercise the muscular coat of the intestines shares in the general lowering of the tone of the body and tends to become torpid. In addition, there is lacking the direct stimulation of the muscles of the intestines which exercise gives.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS
The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript returned.

Was She Surprised?
My son, aged 5, was out in the yard playing and I thought I would take advantage of the fact that he was entertaining himself, so I decided to bathe, and having finished this, I slipped into a bathrobe and applied beauty clay to my face.

When the clay was nearly dry, some one knocked at my door, and thinking it was my son, I rushed to unlock it, and said, "Turn the knob and come on in, honey."

Lo and behold, my imaginary son turned the knob and opened the door and who should it be but the insurance man!

For Two.
My most embarrassing moment came the day before I was married. Happy? Of course, but naturally a little nervous. My brother accompanied me to the county seat to secure the license. I stepped up to the clerk and said, "I wish a marriage license for two." The officialish roar of my brother set the whole office to tittering, and I almost left without the precious license!

BLAMES LAXITY OF PARENTS FOR CRIME GROWTH

CRIMINAL COURT.
Otto Kroos, burglar, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary by Judge Thomas J. Lynch.

Cincinnati, O., April 6.—[Special.]—The crime situation, its causes, effects, and measures designed to relieve large cities from increasing lawlessness, were discussed before the Cincinnati chamber of commerce tonight. Neither evidence nor argument is needed to satisfy the man in the street that there is throughout the United States a rising tide of crime.

Failure to punish.
The outstanding cause of the increase of crime is, in the judgment of many observers, the failure to inflict prompt and adequate punishment on the criminal.

"All of the complications and embarrassments in the criminal law and their administration grow out of the industry of the defendants' representatives finding new ways to delay trial and to induce acquittal."

"We may not all however give proper weight to the effect of social changes which have taken place within the last decade and which undoubtedly have done much to bring about an increase of crime. The home life of the average family has been revolutionized by the use of the automobile. Parents use it for many purposes and when using it are out of touch with their children."

The wages of sin.
The average word of today spends with his parents less than half the time that he would have spent had he belonged to the first older generation. This means diminished opportunities for the impression upon the mind of the child of what are the wages of sin.

The automobile should not be given final blame, however. There are many other causes for the neglect of child training, foremost of which is that divorce has become altogether too common.

"Particular stress is placed upon the neglect of children in their bringing up, because the great majority of defendants brought to book in criminal courts are under twenty-five years old."

"Vegetable growers who produce a surplus of crops to be sold on the market will find some valuable tips, which will aid them in planning their crops this spring, by glancing over the preferences of wholesalers who have to cater to the appetites of consumers. Corbett's summary of the results of a survey of the Providence, R. I., market, is printed in a Rhode Island agricultural college bulletin. Here are some of his remarks on the different vegetables."

"Beets—The size of the tops of beets has little or no influence on sales. An oval beet of a deep, blood red color was the type most desired."

"Tomatoes—A smooth, medium-sized pink tomato was the favorite. Early in the season half bushel boxes were the preferred containers. Later, bushels were wanted."

"Radishes—A small to medium, globe shaped, solid red colored radish was wanted. Bunches of about seven radishes, packed five down to the half bushel or ten down to the bushel box, were the best packs."

"Spinach—A heavy, flat leaf seemed to be preferred."

"Cabbage—Early cabbage should have only the discolored and injured leaves trimmed. Late cabbage, well trimmed, weighing three to five pounds per head and of a rather flat shape seemed to have the preference."

"Most Welcome"

MISS BEATRICE ROSE

"Cold cream seemed too heavy for my skin and would clog my pores," says pretty Miss Beatrice Rose, 1019 South Blvd., New York City, "the soft, light Black and White Cleansing Cream makes a welcome addition to my beauty aids. It melts at a touch, and leaves my skin immaculate and glowing with life, and is wonderful, too, for keeping my neck, arms and hands in the pink of condition."

You, too, will welcome this delightful Cleansing Cream, which is one of the most popular of the Black and White Beauty Creations, endorsed by the smartest women everywhere because of their high quality and excellence at the low 34c and 25c prices.

Best results come from using Black and White Skin Soap along with the other Black and White Beauty Creations.

shirred to a rather narrow belt of self-material which goes all the way around and is punctuated at the sides by two round silver buttons echoing similar buttons on the sleeves. It is an exceedingly smart application of the idea of shirring and its result seems to me more successful than when the whole skirt is so treated.

It is interesting to note that most of the sleeves in the sort of utility frock which we show today are narrow. This is not a universal decree, however, and the peasant sleeve, together with the one puffed below the elbow, can muster out a fashionable following. The vogue of lingerie touches has resulted also in a deep gaucet cuff, which is often made of organza, or lace, or pique, and which does much to relieve the severity of the tailored sleeve.

DEATH CLAIMS J. J. CHARLES IN CALIFORNIA

John Joseph Charles, 70 years old, who entered the service of Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co. as a boy in 1878 and became its president in 1916, died yesterday in Pasadena, Cal. His wife, Mrs. Ida E. Charles, and he had been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Benson A. Talbot.

Until he left Chicago in January 1916, Mr. Charles had been active in the management of the big hardware ware company, overseeing the construction of its new building and arranging for the moving in of stock. He had complained of no illness.

He was born in Williamsport, Md., in 1855, and came to Chicago after the fire. His first employment was with J. V. Farwell & Co., then with the Pullman company. From there he went to the hardware corporation. He was an enthusiastic golfer, a member of Glen View club.

Besides his widow and the daughter, he is survived by a son, Sherman, and John J. Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Walter Rompel of Evanston.

MRS. E. C. YOUNG DIES IN EAST AT 61; FUNERAL HERE

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Belting Young, formerly of Beverly Hills, will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. in St. Paul's Episcopal church, Riverside. Mrs. Young died yesterday in New York, where she and her husband, Gen. Edward C. Young, have resided since 1918.

A native of Chicago, Mrs. Young was 61 years old. She was the daughter of Hiram H. Belding, one of four brothers who formed the firm of Belding Bros. & Co. in 1860. Gen. Young, to whom she was married in 1879, was a leader in the Illinois National Guard for many years.

While here Mrs. Young was active in church and club work. She was the mother of three sons.
